PLAN MUNICIPAL GAS PLANT

PRESIDENT OPPOSES COMPETITION WITH PRIVATE CONCERNS

BARKLEY SAYS PRIVATELY OWNED UTILITIES SHOULD BE GIVEN CHANCE

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Majority Leader Barkley told the senate today President Roosevelt does not want to use government funds for building public utility plants competing with privately-owned systems until private ulitities have been given an opportunity to sell their holdings at "a reasonable price."

Barkley's statement came during senate debate on a proposal to forbid the use of PWA funds for constructing plants which would compete with privately-owned systems.

The restriction was recomended by the senate appropriations committee as an amendment to the administration's three-billion-dollar lending-spending measure.

If the restriction on PWA allotments is eliminated, Barkley asserted he was "authorized to say" that the President would not allocate funds for building public systems unless municipalities have "in good faith made an offer to purchase the existing private plant."

Replying to a question by Senator Borah (D-Ida.) Barkley made it plain that the President would be the final judge of whether a municipality's offer to purchase a private plant was made in good faith and whether a reasonable price had been set.

Must Show "Good Faith" Offer

To a question by Senator Hatch (D-NM), the democratic leader explained a municipality would be required to show in its application for PWA funds that it had made a "good faith" offer to buy the existing private plant.

Barkley said the power question was discussed at a recent conference between the President, himself, Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn.

"The President," he said, "took the position that federal money ought not to be allocated for the construction of public utilities where there is an existing private utility whose rates are regulated by a public authority until and unless the municipality or other political subdivision made in good faith an offer to purchase at a fair price the existing privately owned and operated plant.

"This position was agreed to by all those present at the conference."

Barkley said that as a result of this discussion he prepared an amendment to the relief bill carrying out the President's ideas.

"Upon further consideration, however," he continued, "It was discovered that such a provision would very probably result in litigation as to the fairness as well as the good faith of any offer made by a municipality to purchase an esisting plant.

Will Offer Amendment.

"For this reason I will not only offer the amendment which we discussed and contemplated, but

FBI CHIEF TAKES CHARGE KIDNAPING CASE THURSDAY

HUGE POSSES CONTINUE TO COMB AREA FOR ANY TRACE MISSING FLORIDA CHILD

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, took charge of the James Bailey Cash, Jr., kidnaping case today while small boats and divers augmented a huge posse combing this area in the rain for a trace of the 5-year-old victim.

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened immediately to the FBI office in a downtown skyscraper where agents have been questioning several suspects for 24 hours. He refused, like his subordinates, to discuss the case and indicated he expected to be here several days.

Hundreds of men in khaki veterans' uniforms and hunting togs, many with pistols at their belts, assembled at dawn and were taken out in farm trucks to the sectors assigned for the second day of the search.

The hunt was extended northward through Palmetto thickets, weeds and flat truck farm lands.

The senior Cash and his wife remained secluded in their frame apartment building, although the father came to the door to receive three telegrams.

SEVERAL TEXANS INVOLVED IN ALLEGED WHOLESALE NARCOTICS SALES

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—A federal district court jury, after deliberating 15 hours, today convicted 12 persons of a narcotics conspiracy claimed by the government to have operated in Texas, Louisiana and New York City. Three persons were acquitted.

Those convicted, each facing a possible two year sentence, were:

Alphonso and Josephine Attardi of Galveston, Tex.; Charles Casesa, of Brooklyn; Vincent Gentiluomo of Galveston; James DiMaggio of New York; Jerry Feraci of New Orleans; Mike Sgitcavich of Galveston; Augustine Simoncini of Galveston; Jerry Bruno of New York; Louis Liguore, address unknown; Colagerio Iacono of New York; and Ralph Ligurio, who is in Dannemora prison. Mercy was recommended for Mrs. Attardi.

Sentences of two years in prison and fines of $5,000 each were imposed against Attardi, Casesa, Bruno and Gentiluomo. DiMaggio was sentenced to 18 months and Simoncini and Sgitcavich each to two years.

The court adjourned the sentencing of the remaining defendants until June 13.

There were 88 defendants named in the indictment under which the case was brought to trial. Ten were women.

As the trial progressed, cases against a number of the defendants were dismissed. These included Vincent Vallone of Houston, a night club owner, who got an instructed acquittal.

Many of the persons named are fugitives. Others including Sam Maceo of Galveston, Tex., are fighting extradition in New Orleans circuit court.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph P. Martin described Maceo as an important defendant.

The trial started on May 2, and a about 50 prosecution witnesses were heard. Most of them testified as to narcotics sales in Texas cities and also described operations in Louisiana.

After the jury returned its verdicts, Martin said he would try to bring to trial immediately a number of other individuals named in the indictment.

SENATE DEMOCRATS WANT HARRISON AT HEAD OF COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Several senate democrats up for re-election are working quietly to put Senator Pat Harrison (D-Miss) at the head of the party's senate campaign committee.

Harrison's selection for the chairmanship, these senators said today, would do much to promote party harmony for the November elections.

The tall, soft-spoken Mississippian is generally popular with both administration supporters and opponents. He has differed with President Roosevelt on some issues, however, and recently criticized the president's views on the 1938 revenue bill.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky) the majority leader, said he would appoint the committee before the session ends and would poll senators who are running this year before selecting the chairman.

Barkley defeated Harrison for the senate leadership last year by in single vote.

JAPANESE CLAIM ADVANCES DUE TO PLANES ACTIVITY

IMPORTANT GAINS AROUND LANGHAI RAILWAY ANNOUNCED THURSDAY

By ELMER W. PETERSON

SHANGHAI, June 2.—(AP)—Warplanes of Nippon's army again spread destruction today through towns and villages about the Lunghai railway, and Japanese said this enabled their columns to make important gains.

The Japanese announced they had occupied a corner of Kihsien, 20 miles south of Lanfeng, after an hour's fight. Chinese field gun positions north of Kinsien were damaged heavily.

For two weeks, the Japanese have been fighting for staunchly defended villages about Lanfeng, railway station on the Lunghai on the westward route to Chengchow, whence they hope to turn southward in a mass offensive against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

One Japanese detachment claimed occupation of Luyi, 15 miles west of Pohsien, thereby helping to straighten the 75-mile crescent-shaped front running south from Lanfeng.

RAYBURN DECLARES WANING SESSION OF CONGRESS WAS GOOD

SATISFACTORY ACCOMPLISHMENTS VIEWED BY DEMOCRATIC FLOOR LEADER

DONALD A. YOUNG

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—A short, stocky, bald Texan who has shepherded the biggest democratic majority ever in the house of representatives puffed rapidly on a cigarette today and viewed the waning session as satisfactory.

"The boys all have pulled together and we have accomplished something," said Rep. Sam Rayburn, the democratic floor leader. "We suffered only one major reverse since we came back here in November and that was the shelving of the reorganization bill."

Against the reorganization defeat, Rayburn placed congressional approval of a new crop control bill, house acceptance of a wage-hour bill after refusing to pass the first draft, and speedy adoption of regular appropriation bills.

"I think most of the boys are ready to go home. I know that I most certainly am."

"Sam," as the house members always speak of him, has been personal command of the 224 democrats elected in November, 1936.

It hasn't been an easy job, Rayburn admitted.

"This fellow and then that one comes to me and says he's got to have help getting a certain bill through," he said. "I've got to tell him in most cases that we've got to put him off a while. What with an administration bill ready

CITY OFFICIALS TO MAKE APPLICATIONS FOR FEDERAL LOANS

MAYOR MURCHISON AND COMMISSIONER BURKE VISIT GOVERNMENT HEADS

An opportunity to secure another municipal utility, a gas distributing system, with prospects of being a greater profit-maker than the water system, is open to the citizens of Corsicana if they desire to take advantage of it, Mayor J. S. Murchison reported on his return from Washington, D. C., where he conferred with numerous officials.

The mayor was accompanied to the national capital by Commissioner J. Harry Burke, head of the street and sanitary departments, and both reported a very profitable trip.

Mayor Murchison said the trip was made to determine how best to secure approximately a half million dollars that could be well used by the City of Corsicana in making needed improvements.

First on the list was the securing of between $75,000 and $100,000 for the construction of a second supply line from Lake Halbert to the city limits, made necessary by the growing water consumption and for protection in emergencies.

Plan Improve Streets

The second project discussed was the securing of $50,000 for repairs on the present paved street system of Corsicana; this amount was sought in addition to the approximately $70,000 that has been approved for projects under contemplation at the present time including West Third avenue.

A third project was the need of approximately $25,000 for replacement of the main sewer line from the sewage disposal plant east of the city limits to a point on Norht Thirteenth street. Temporary repairs in this line were made recently but city officials agree the replacement of the line must be made in the near future.

The major item on the list of possible projects, however, was declared by the mayor to be the securing of some $325,000 for the laying of a new gas distribution system in the city, which has a number of distinct advantages.

Gas Supply Near.

Mayor Murchison said study of the gas distribution system project was started after it was found that natural gas could be obtained at a city limits gateway at a very attractive price from a source declared by competent engineers to be able to supply many times the amount of gas consumed in Corsicana for a long period of years, and other sources of supply avnilable.

From the preliminary study, the mayor declared that it would be possible to offer Corsicana residents a gas rate at least twenty per cent under the present schedule, and in addition the elimination of the monthly readiness-to-serve charge would effect even greater savings. Mayor Murchison asserted it would be possible

CHURCHMEN GATHER OBSERVE FOUNDING FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN TEXAS 100 YEARS AGO

SAN AUGUSTINE, June 2.—(AP)—Scores of churchmen came here today for an all day celebration of the establishment, a hundred years ago, of the First Presbyterian church in Texas.

Dr. Hugh Wilson, a preacher who had left a ministry among the Mississippi Indians, came here to found the church, first in the Republic of Texas, June 2, 1838.

Other Presbyterian ministers had pioneered, but Mexican rulers had prevented their organizing Protestant congregations. Dr. Wilson's church with a charter membership of 22 persons, including two negro slaves, was called Bethel.

The one-room, log cabin edifice, replaced in recent years by a modern building, has been reproduced on a bronze memorial tablet for presentation to the San Augustine congregation. On the tablet are the names of the original members.

Five grandsons of the founder were scheduled to have parts on the memorial program, of which Dr. Cecil Lang, Kilgore pastor, was in charge.

The five were Rev. R. L. Owen of Longview, Rev. C. P. Owen, of Brownwood, Rev. J. A. Owen of Albany, Rev. T. M. Cunningham, Oak Cliff, Dallas, and Rev. L. O. Cunningham of Kerrville.

More than 500 persons were present for the all-day celebration, climaxed in the afternoon by a "pageant of Texas Presbyterianism" given by the young people of the San Augustine church. Dr. J. C. Oehler is host pastor.

Other pastors who took part in the celebration were Dr. W. A. McLeod, Cuero; Dr. Robert Hill, Tyler, ad Rev. Malcolm L. Purcell, Port Arthur.

GROUND BE BROKEN JULY FIFTEEN FOR NEWSPRINT PLANT

SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS SPONSORING CONSTRUCTION BIG PLANT

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., June 2.—(AP)—Ground will be broken July 15 for the first unit of a four-unit newsprint manufacturing plant at Lufkin, Texas, under the plans announced by James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner, at the final session yesterday of the annual convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association.

Stahlman, chairman of the committee on newsprint manufacture of the association and president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, said the deed for the mill, closed at the 1938 convention was a forward step for southern industry and predicted that other similar mills would follow in southern states from Vriginia to Texas.

Publisher members of the southern Association purchased the stock in the mill, a $7,500,000 undertaking and only technical approval had to be obtained, Stahlman said, before the entire financing was approved.

ELABORATE 'TREASURE HUNTING' OUTFIT IN POSSESSION OF TWO NEGROES HELD BY CITY POLICE

One of the most elaborate "treasure hunting" outfits ever seen by veteran members of the Corsicana police department was found Wednesday morning in possession of two negroes arrested for investigation.

The pair was taken to police headquarters after they had tendered two burned silver dollars to a filling station attendant on Highway 75 and he had had notified city officers.

In the possession of the negroes was found a quart glass jar in which were about half a dozen silver dollars, all showing signs of having been burned or buried, and a quantity of brazed iron washers and some bronze or brass disc which at first glance resembled burned money. Local officers noted the jar had the appearance of having been buried in the ground and surmised this was "bait" used in the "treasure hunting" which is termed a form of "pigeon-dropping," a common form of swindling practiced on negroes.

But the main prize was the "treasure finder' which resembled an enlarged version of a child's toy known as a "rocket gun." The device was 28 inches long, and had a seven inch handle on the butt, and apparently constructed of aluminum. In the handle end of the device was a chamber large enough to hold three flash light batteries, and immediately in front was a small flashlight bulb. Elaborate wiring extended from the handle to the point. Near the end was a glass vial, guarded with an aluminum casting, which apparently contained copper and brass fittings.

A set screw was located near the handle in such a position that the "locater" of the buried "treasure" could cause the lamp to light by running up the screw leaving the victim under the impression that contact of the point of the device with the ground over the "treasure" had caused the light.

Falls county officials had recently sent out notices that an aged negro near Marlin had been fleeced out of more than $100 by use of a similar device about two weeks ago, and when they were contacted by local ofifcers asked that the pair be held until they could come to Corsicana and look them over.

After arriving in Corsicana and looking over the negroes and their equipment, the Falls county officer decided to return the pair to Marlin for further investigation, and possible identification of the pair by the recently swindled victim.

STILL PLENTY OF VITALITY IN AMERICAN HOME SURVEY OF YOUTH OF NATION INDICATES

WASHINGTON, June .—(AP)—There's plenty of vitality in that much-challenged institution — the American home.

After a scientific sampling of the country's 20,000,000 young people 16 to 24 years old, the American youth commission announced today that only three per cent of "single youth" now living at home expressed a desire to break the home ties.

And although the great majority of 13,528 Maryland young men and women interviewed in relief offices, palatial country clubs and modest homes wanted at least two fewer children than the 4.7 median their parents had, about 90 per cent wanted to have children eventually. In "Youth Tell Their Story," Howard M. Bell's book-length report of the survey to be published tomorrow, there's a highlighted story of how American young people live.

From the thousands of interviews obtained by 37 experts from 16 to 25 years old, Bell reported that:

Four out of five were living with parents or relatives. Almost half the married group was so housed.

About one-third were or had been subject to broken homes, caused chiefly by death, but also by divorce or separation, which was three times as frequent among city parents as farm parents.

About one of every five helping to support or was completely supporting his parents.

Only three out of ten reported they received most of their sex knowledge from parents or relatives. Chief sources were their contemporaries.

DEFENSE IN HARLAN COAL FIELDS CASE REFUSED MISTRIAL

MOTION FOR MISTRIAL BY DEFENSE WAS OVERRULED AND TRIAL PROCEEDS

By KEN WHITE

LONDON, Ky., June 2.—(AP)—A defense motion for a mistrial overruled, government witnesses today continued their recital of purported discriminations against union miners in the Harlan coal fields.

The trial now in its third week in federal court here moved quickly along as miner after miner took the stand to testify to alleged discriminations against union members by the 66 defendants—Harlan county individuals and coal companies—charged by the government with conspiracy to violate the Wagner Labor Act.

Former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, chief of defense counsel, asked for a mistrial ruling on the basis of testimony by Boyd Isom, a miner, concerning the death of his small son.

Federal Judge H. Church Ford overruled the motion.

At liberty today under bond on the charge of conspiracy to suborn perjury were Lee Hubbard and Merle Middleton—both defendants in the labor trial—and a man identified only as

PRESIDENT ADVISES NAVY MIDSHIPMEN TO ACQUIRE KNOWLEDGE

INFORMATION NEEDED OF MODERN CIVILIZATION AS WELL AS NAVY TRAINING

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt advised the naval academy's graduating midshipmen today to acquire a well-rounded knowledge of "modern civilization" in addition to their training as officers of the navy.

"That applies," the President said, "to all of world thought and world problems but it applies, of course, with special emphasis to the thought and problems of our own nation."

The President stood before the white bloused graduates as their commander in chief and told them they would never "reach the top and stay at the top" unless they became well-rounded in their knowledge of all factors of civilization "that lie outside of your own special profession."

He gave this a political twist when he recalled an incident in a conversation he once had with President Theodore Roosevelt.

He related that a conservation bill, strongly recommended by Theodore Roosevelt, had been defeated in congress by a coalition of members who saw no special advantage to their own congressional districts.

"'I wish,'" the present Chief Executive quoted Teddy Roosevelt as saying, "'we could have a constitutional amendment requiring that no person could run for congress unless he had visited every one of the 48 states in the union.'"

Presidential Greeting.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2.—(AP)—The navy greeted its commander-in-chief with traditional military flourishes today on his arrival to present diplomas to 435 midshipmen.

A company of marines snapped to salute and the band gave fourth ruffles and flourishes and swung into "Hail to the Chief," the Presidential march, as his automobile entered the naval academy gates. A 21-gun salute roared out and the flag of the President fluttered to the fore of the station ship, Reina Mercedes.

Other members of the President's party received salutes in keeping with their various ranks.

Of the graduates, 385 became ensigns of the navy and 26 second lieutenants of the Marine corps.

ROBERT CAMPBELL GETS FIFTEEN YEARS IN DALLAS ROBBERY

DALLAS, June 2.—A jury in Judge Henry King's criminal district court Wednesday assessed Robert Campbell fifteen years in the penitentiary in connection with the robbery of a five-cents-a-point hearts game in a downtown club the night it was opened October 12, 1937. Campbell was tried in connection with the robbery of George Barnes, one of the players, of $240. Otto Freyer, Campbell's companion in the holdup, was given eight years on a similar charge several months ago.

Two men entered the club, testimony showed, with drawn pistols, forced the players to die down on the floor and warned them not to appear against them.

Campbell recently was given twenty years for robbery in a trial at Longview.

for the floor and then an appropriation bill or two.

"I try to be honest with them, but with a big gang of men like we have here now, it's pretty hard to keep them all satisfied."

To Rayburn falls the responsibility for determining the order in which legislation is considered. If possible, he maneuvers to the sidelines bills objectionable to the administration.

When a major measure is ready for a vote, Rayburn and his corps of assistants, called "whips" try to cajole wavering democrats into line.

"Only twice this year were we wrong when the final vote was taken—that was on the recommittal of the wage-hour and reorganization bills," Rayburn said.

He came to congress 25 years ago after serving as speaker in the Texas legislature. If precedent is followed and the democrats continue to control the house, he some day may hold the title of speaker again.

DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW HEAVY INCREASE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DISCUSS EMHOUSE BRIDGE SITUATION FURTHER

Delinquent tax collections for the month of May, this year, showed an increase of 414 per cent as compared with May, 1937, according to T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes, in his report made to the commissioners' court Wednesday afternoon. A discussion of the Emhouse bridge situation with the Emhouse delegation also was held and following the adjournment of the court, the commissioners went to Emhouse to inspect the bridge.

Farmer reported the delinquent taxes collected in May, this year, were $8,438.15 as compared with $2,034.76 for May, 1937.

The supplemental intangible tax roll as submitted by Farmer was signed and approved.

Claims were allowed as read.

Commissioner J. O. Sessions, discussing the Emhouse situation following the statement recently by County Surveyor W. M. Elliott that the bridge is located in Precinct 2 instead of Precinct 1, said that ever since the county had been organized the bridge had been maintained as a part of precinct 1, and that he did not feel it was his duty to do anything about the situation in his precinct, but at the same time he was a county commissioner and he believed that the people of that section needed help and the bridge.

ONE WOMAN'S IMMORTALITY WON BY LOVE'S LAVISHNESS *

The Distictive Characteristic of Her Sex, Displayed by Mary of Bethay, Fills the World With Fragrance—The Money-mad Starveling at the Feast.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

It is almost uncanny the way this Book, called the Bible, sheds a new light on the latest problems of the time. Nowadays we have the woman question perplexing many. In such a day as this the Sunday Schools have allotted, for the study of millions, a story which reveals vividly the greatest gift and essential power of woman.

In shining distinction it is pointed out that the chief qualification of woman is her spiritual intuition. She is endowed with the ability to perceive the real values of life. Her capacity and loyalty in love are but variations of her ability to penetrate to the core of all things involving spiritual values.

In this sense of relative worth, which transcends all arithmetic, for it is the divine mathematics of love, woman is dowered above man.

Fragrance That Fills the World

This story is one of the sweetest in the repertory of the common people. The scene is laid at a large family dinner in the town of Bethany, a suburb of Jerusalem, where Jesus and his disciples were guests. The event of the occasion, which alone made the dinner noteworthy, was the action of Mary of Bethany, sister of Lazarus, who broke an alabaster vessel of pure nard—a superlative perfume, worth a working man's wages for a year—upon the feet and head of the Master, who had restored her brother to life, and who had been teacher and friend to her family.

This was the very extravagance of devotion. The guests gasped at the royal offering which filled with fragrance the house where they sat. The annointing was a consummate token of lavish devotion—better understood in the perfume-loving Orient than in our Western land. Yet the fragrance of that offering has for nineteen hundred years been sweetening this old earth of ours.

Judas Objects.

The thrifty, "practical" and unsentimental guests were scandalized by such extravagance. They were displeased that the Guest of Honor should countenance such waste, and their disapproval of Mary became instantly clear to both her eyes and her ears.

Chief among these prudent and protesting ones was that keeper of the money bags, Judas Iscariat, who thought always in terms of lucre, and who straightway, with appraising eye, began to estimate the possible uses of the money represented by the gift. Outwardly he talked of giving it to the poor; really he wanted it where his avaricious fingers could clutch it.

Poor Mary was shocked, embarrassed and hurt at the reception which her act was accorded by the other guests. A sensitive spiritual personality, she quailed before this hostile criticism. Her one thought had been of her Lord. She was of those who do not weigh and calculate consequences. To her it was clear that her Master was worthy of her best; and that the highest use of any possession of hers was to employ it in the service of love. She knew instantly—and wondered why the truth was not plain to everybody—that when great loyalties call, nothing else matters.

Gentleman to Rescue.

True Gentleman that he ever was, Jesus came promptly to the rescue of Mary, bewildered by the carping criticisms of these small-souled disciples. Only for an instant was she permitted to suffer the embarrassment of rebuke; then she became covered with the embarrassment of eulogy.

Jesus not only received her offering with gratitude—and nobody in this world will ever know what a comfort it was to the hunted and harried Nazarene to feel that somebody really understood and really cared—but He also publicly defended it as the highest use of money. All true disciples of love are forever indebted to Mary for providing the occasion for these words of Jesus of the superlative worth of love and all of love's offerings.

Audaciously Jesus promised immortal fame to the deed of Mary. He declared further that her wisdom was greater than that of all his drilled disciples and of all the doctors of the law. Her intuition had outrun their reason. She saw what was hid from them, that Jesus was about to do. Her sensitive heart had caught the true importance of his repeated words to his uncomprehending disciples. This was her way of administering comfort and expressing loyalty.

The Time for Love's Offerings

Later on, in due time, Mary would bear spices to the tomb of her crucified Lord. Now, however while He was living and while His heart was heavy with the burden of the world's woe and of the relentless persecution of his enemies, and while He was shut apart by a great loneliness, Mary would make her timely offering to refresh His weary spirit. No counsel is commoner than that one that we should bear flowers to the living rather than gifts to the dead. Margaret Preston has put it into verse:

"Had I but heard
One breath of applause, one cheering word—
One cry of 'Courage!' amid the strife,
So weighed for me with death or life—
How would it have nerved my soul to strain
Thro' the whirl of the coming surge again.

"What use for the rope, if it be not flung
Till the swimmer's grasp to the rock has clung?
What worth is eulogy's blandest breath
What whispered in ears that are hushed in death?
No! no! if you have but a word of cheer,
Speak it while I am alive to hear."

Her sense of spiritual values made Mary understand that love lives on lavish offerings. The rose has one value in the florist's shop; but it has a far greater value when it rests in the hands of the woman to whom it speaks of love and loyalty. In the eyes of Judas this alabaster vessel of pure nard was worth three hundred pence; streaming over the person of the Anointed One, it had a worth beyond all appraisal; it had come to its highest use.

There is a hard utilitarian spirit which, in mistaken thrift, leaves life barren of the gracious gifts of love. The Orient, with its immemorial customs of gift-giving, is wiser than we. Surely no student of this beautiful story will miss the meaning of the fact that Jesus promised immortality of fame only to this one extravagance of loving devotion. Christ merits the best; Christ honors the best; Christ rewards the best.

SUCCESS ASSURED IN BUILDING FIRST NEWSPRINT PLANT

LUFKIN, TEXAS, SITE FOR NEW INDUSTRY PLANNED FOR SOUTH

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., June 1.—(AP)—James G. Stahlman, chairman of the newsprint manufacture committee, told the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association at its final session today that success virtually was assured for building the first Southern newsprint plant at Lufkin, Texas.

Publisher of the Nashville Tenn., Banner and president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Stahlman said his committee had approved plans of engineers for plant and financial structure and there was "every indication of successful completion of the project."

The first newsprint mill in the South was expected to be the forerunner of other plants for which there was almost an inexhaustible supply of wood from which to make newsprint, he said.

Stahlman said cottonwood, one of the most common Southern growths, could be used for pulp to manufacture fine quality newsprint.

"Cottonwood grows up every creek and river through the South and you could set up a mill to make newsprint and have an abundant supply of raw material anywhere," he said.

He pointed to this industry as a "savior of the South," an industry which in 15 to 20 years, if allowed to expand, would surpass the textiles.

Efficient Young Journalists Needed

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., June 1.—(AP)—Mounting newspaper production costs are leading to an increasing demand for efficient young journalists, said the report on the Lee Memorial School of Journalism submitted to the annual convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association here today.

"Students going into newspaper work will need more knowledge of the business problems of newspaper making than they have generally had in the past," said the report.

O. W. Riegel is director of the school.

The report said the department of journalism was given special instruction in photography and that an Associated Press teletypewriter had been installed for copy reading and newspaper makeup for students.

The school is connected with Washington and Lee University.

FEATURED IN COLLEGE SWING

Gracie Allen, George Burns and Martha Raye, who panicked audiences in "College Holiday," head the all-star cast of the new Paramount musical comedy, "College Swing," which will open Saturday night at the Palace theatre. In this story of a collegiate nitwit who takes over a leading American university and runs it to suit herself, the three gay clowns are assisted in their antics by Bob Hope, who climbed into the top drawer of stardom by virtue of his single performance as the master of ceremonies in the recent "Big Broadcast of 1938."

The story of "College Swing" is the high-geared fantasy which has always provided Burns and Allen with their most successful material.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Rice 4-H Club.

The Rice 4-H club met Wednesday, May 25, at the school building.

Mrs. Fitzgerald explained to us about the bath mats. They are to be made of some kind of soft absorbent material so they will take up all of the moisture. Special care should be taken in choosing the color, because care about color scheme should be taken in the bath room as well as in the bedroom. Mrs. Fitzgerald is braiding her a rug out of candlewick thread and he reiped her braid it.

Miss Rettiger met with the club Friday, May 28, at the school building, and brought a lady to give us a sewing machine demonstration. The lady gave us a very helpful demonstration. By adding a small attachment she would embroider, do cut-out work or most anything. The demonstration was very interesting and well worth anyone's time.

Our next meeting will be next Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. M. Fitzgerald.—Reporter.

Houston Hospital Attacked By Fire; Patients Moved

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—One hundred and thirty one patients in St. Joseph's infirmary were moved to safety today when flames attacked a portion of the third floor of the hospital.

Firemen had not ascertained the cause of the blaze which attracted some 10,000 spectators. A third alarm brought a heavy portion of the city's fire fighting equipment to the hospital, which is the largest in Houston.

The fire was confined to the third floor of the south wing of the hospital. Internes, nurses and doctors, aided firemen in rushing the patients confined to that section of the hospital to safety.

The mother superior of the hospital reported after the blaze was brought under control that no panients had been injured.

Damage totalling thousands of dollars was caused by the flames, which ate away the roof of the floor and caused it to cave in.

COMMON HOUSEFLY VERY REAL THREAT HEALTH OF PEOPLE

ITS EFFICIENCY IN SPREADING OF MANY DISEASES KNOWN TO DOCTORS

AUSTIN, June 2.—(Spl.)—"The common housefly possesses two deceiving characteristics. As insects go, it is not offensive in appearance and it is so common that its presence is to a degree accepted. Nevertheless, the fly is a very real threat to good health. It is estimated that the fly is responsible for 40,000 deaths annually in America. Its efficiency as a spreader of typhoid fever, infant diarrheal infections and tuberculosis is well recognized by the medical profession," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

We have, even so, made much progress against the disease-spreading fly. The screening of homes and a sanitary consciousness both in urban and rural communities, have reduced the fly's disease-spreading ability. We all must realize, however, that in the rural areas of Texas there are still many properties lacking sanitary pit privies and adequate screening; and in cities and towns exposed garbage and filth are permitted inexcusably to exist as breeding spots for flies.

"It is such carelessness that still makes possible widespread fly havoc. There is no reason to tolerate fly-breeding conditions, especially in congested metropolitan areas. Even in the rural sections, adequate sanitary protection, household screening, and fly-swatting will greatly neutralize the damaging potentialities of barnyards and cowlots.

"The fly must be recognized for what it is, despite its innocent appearance and lack of sting. It will then be appreciated that no effort is too great to help destroy it. And this effort, when well directed, will not be so much against the fly itself, however commendable that may be, as against its breeding places," Dr. Cox continued.

"Filth is the fly's great and only ally; cleanliness its powerful enemy. If typhoid deaths and infant mortality from diarrheal conditions are to be reduced in Texas this spring, summer and autumn, as well as eventual deaths from tuberculosis, now is the time to wage effective warfare against one of their most powerful agents—the fly."

PREPARATION HOME GROWN VEGETABLES WILL BE STRESSED

Every negro home demonstration club woman in Navarro county rejoices in the knowledge of plenty of vegetables growing in her garden. Getting her family to eat and enjoy them, however, is another matter, according to Jessie L. Shelton, negro home demonstration agent for the county. Greens, squash, egg plant, sweet potatoes, in particular, she says, are hard to make really palatable and will therefore receive special attention in the demonstrations to be given on the "Correct Cooking of Home Grown Vegetables." These demonstrations are open to negro home demonstration club women and will be given through leadership training schools which will be held on the following dates and in the communities named. School I, will be held at Pelham with Brushie and Antioch club women attending, June 13-14. School II, Round Prairie with Princeton, Kerens and Samaria attending. June 16-17. School III Elm Flat with Cheneyboro, Eureka, Angus and Corsicana attending, June 22-23. School IV, Chatfield with Timothy, Brown Valley and Rice attending, June 27-28. Each school will be conducted for two days.

Correct cooking of vegetables must be followed by correct seasoning. Too many women either over-season or else pass that opportunity altogether and serve rather tasteless, unpalatable dishes. Correct seasoning is pretty much of an art, and calls for skill and discrimination. The general theory is, not to drown out the vegetable's natural flavor but by deft use of seasoning, to enhance it. "Sweetening vegetables is not so startling a method as it may at first sound. Sweetening used in combination with salt in well balanced proportions, brings out the natural sweetness which most vegetables have when fresh, and restores it if they are a bit old, and the natural sugar content has started to turn into starch.

The various ways in which sugar, marshmellows, etc., may be incorporated in the vegetables, and the correct proportions will be discussed in the coming schools. Those present will be given an opportunity to sample vegetables prepared both with and without this seasoning.

THIS IS NOT WAR

It has been reported authoritativey in the British House of Commons that Chinese prisoners of Japan's undeclared war were killed in Amoy in violation of international law. Similar reports have come repeatedly from other places taken by the invaders.

An American news dispatch from Shanghai on May 19 said: "Steamships and railroad trains packed with refugees who huddled in horror today brought charges that the Japanese conquerors of Amoy sprayed civilians with machine guns and killed prisoners of war wholesale. Thirteen hundred frightened retugees from Amoy who arrived in Hongkong today, saved by an American skipper, said they fled from wide-spread slaughter by machine guns."

The Japanese spokesmen are right in saying "this is not war." It is massacre. It is gangsterism, such as formerly disgraced and horrified this country when practiced by small bands of criminals, raised to the ultimate power and now practiced by nations. There is little hope for modern civilization, on any continent, unless it stops.

GERMAN STEEL BOOM

As an immediate result of annexing Austria, Germany is going to build 32 new blast furnaces and three new steel works. American equipment firms have been asked to bid on the jobs. That is a little surprising, but America today leads the world in such construction, as in the use of the steel itself.

The Austrian ores are richer than Germany's. The deposits are estimated at 200,000,000 tons averaging 30 per cent iron. German native ore is limited in quantity and not so rich.

To Americas, the entire deposits of Greater Germany seem trival. Our available iron ore is still rated in billions of tons, and we regularly produce nearly half the iron and steel in the world. The expanding Nazi regime may soon use up most of its good ore and then seek ours. Armament and war are very wasteful of iron.

It is all right to build those foreign steel mills, if our industrial engineering firms can get the contracts, but we may want to be careful from now on, about alienating our iron, especially for the benefit of nations determined on armed conquest. We ourselves find more and more peaceful use for it.

MARRYING AGES

A judge with large experience in a domestic relations court tells college girls to marry men five to eight years older than themselves. Such a difference in age, he explains, gives more assurance of a marriage lasting for life. It is all right from the start, because the girl is more mature than boys near her own age.

He might have added that it takes a young man nowadays about that long after leaving school to start earning money to support a wife.

The judge's suggestion looks like good business, matrimonially speaking, for girls so inclined. But where does it leave the young fellows they have grown up and played around with? Generally speaking, the plan seems to require an entirely new set of friends on both sides.

China, as you might say, is now in the process of absorbing Japan.

JUST FOLKS

THE GOLFING PARSON TALKS

The golfing parson looked at me
and slowly shoow ihs head,
"Life is a most perplexing thing,"
impressively he said.
"Though faith have I in ways divine,
in golf it bothers me
To find the bad can be so good,
the good so bad can be.

"'Tis something I have long observed and am not pleased to tell,
The men who tread the narrow path seem not to play too well,
But those who never seek my church to walk its center aisle
Stand confidently on the tee and drive the ball a mile!

"'Twould easier make my task on earth were things not as they are,
And goodly men and gentlemen could always shoot in par.
But though I counsel them from sin and shrive their souls of blame,
It does not seem in any way to benefit their game.

"So badly played the noble soul whose game today I shared,
I almost wished at times that with a sinner I'd been paired.
But this it is I must confess makes golfing parsons sad
That bad men oft can be so good and good men be so bad."

WPA MINDS

A relief worker who might be called a veteran WPA employee, and who is more articulate than most of his fellow-workers, make some interesting comments to a newspaper man about the psychology of his social group:

"The worst of the WPA work," he says, "is that it destroys your confidence. You feel there's no real place for you in life. All relief workers suffer from an inferiority complex. They feel beaten. They're bewildered. That's why they are so patient and uncomplaining unless somebody is stirring them up.

"It's been a long grind with most of them. They weren't getting along even when times were good. Their mental outlook is not necessarily a product of WPA work but of years of job-hunting, of worrying, of failing, of feeling that something was wrong with them."

He makes a rather keen suggestion about sit-down strikes. "Jobs have been scarce and work uncertain for years. People have had to crawl and beg for work. Then chance comes along to show their power, to expand their egos, to set themselves right in their own minds. Those sit-down strikes were silly and wasteful, but they spread like an epidemic because they gave people who felt suppressed a chance to release their resentment and run the show. There was something contagious and hysterical about it."

Facts like these, if they are facts, are worth knowing by everybody. They are the kind of stuff out of which social movements and history are made.

TALKING WITH A PURPOSE.

The words "colloquy", "debate", "forum" and "panel" are not new, but they have developed special meanings in recent years. At its thirteenth annual meeting the American Association for Adult Education divided its discussions into eight colloquies, explaining that the "colloquy" was a combination of the panel it had introduced some years ago, with the forum and the device used by legal boards in conducting hearings.

All this requires a little more definition for the uninitiated. One thing is plain, however. The habit of talking things over is growing on the American people.

There are many forum meetings at churches and clubs, at which speeches are followed not merely by polite applause, but by vigorous questioning and a stimulating, even if heated, exchange of questions and answers.

The colloquy, which may be breaking out in many communities as the adult education leaders return to their home towns, will extend and improve these other forms of discussion. Apparently it provides for a trained leader, several associates prepared to direct discussion, and a panel of experts to bring out facts. These directed conversations are not devoted to the old-fashioned and stilted debate topics, but to present problems, their analysis, their solution.

Isn't there ground for hope that we'll get somewhere by this means?

CLASS REUNION, 19—?

GUN FOOLISHNESS

A fourteen-year-old boy is dead because he and his sixteen-year-old brother were careless about an old gun they found. They brought it home but did not mention it to their father. It seemed quite a treasure.

The boys did not think the gun was loaded, but it was. The elder brother was examining the thing while the other looked on The trigger was pulled unintentionally. The gun went off and wounded the boy. He died in a local hospital.

There are too many similar accidents. The gun nobody thinks is loaded is a real menace which every child should be taught to avoid. Guns, even old rusty ones, are not toys to be fooled with by irresponsible children or careless adults.

We are making remarkable progress in increasing highway safety, but we are still too indifferent to dangers in the home and to unnessary firearms about a house.

MODERN TURNPIKE

Remember the turnpike roads of our grandfathers' days, whose users paid toll? They seem to be coming back again. A big private enterprise of this sort is projected in Pennsylvania.

There is to be a high-speed toll highway built over the Allegheny Mounains from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, a distance of 165 miles, at an estimated cost of $60,000,000. Forty-year bonds will be sold to raise the captal, the first $10,000,000 immediately. The promoters are so sure of the feasibility of this enterprise that they talk confidently of earning nearly $3,000,000 the first year.

All traffic over this road will pay a small mileage charge. It is expected that trucks, busses and even private automobiles will save money by using it, making better speed, with lower gas bills and less wear and tear.

It appears to be, in a small way, very much like the national gridiron highway system proposed by Senator Bulkley of Ohio for federal construction. The latter project would cost several billions but would be expected to repay its cost. It may well wait for the result of the Pennsylvania experiment.

Judging from Hitler's peeve on his Roman holiday, that Rome-Berlin axis isn't so hot any more.

BOYCE MARTIN IS NAMED PRESIDENT LOCAL LIONS CLUB

Boyce Martin, advertising manager of the Sun-Light Publishing company, was elected president of the Lions Club for the 1938-39 year at Tuesday's meeting at the Navarro hotel. Judge C. L. Jester, prominent Corsicana attorney and historian, was the principal speaker, giving an interesting discourse upon the early history of Corsicana and naming a list of Corsicana residents who have become famous. Miss Clover Rutherford, summer music teacher at the I. O. O. F. Home, played a group of popular numbers as a piano solo.

Other officers elected were Will Thompson, first vice-president; M. A. Tekell, second vice-president; Duren Norris, third vice-president; R. A. Caldwell, secretary; Gabe Goldberg, treasurer and song leader; F. H. Harvey, tail-twister; T. B. Kirkham, Lion-tamer and B. Lynn Sanders, director. The nominating committee was composed of Dr. L. E. Kelton, Sr., W. H. Norwood and F. W. Smith.

In Charge Program

Dr. Kelton and Duren Norris had charge of today's program and Dr. H. B. Love, president, appointed Gabe Goldberg and Will Thompson as next week's program committee. Beauford H. Jester was a visitor today. The new officers will take office next Tuesday. Sydney Marks reported on the group meeting last week in Palestine, and said there was a large number of Corsicana Lions present; they won most of the contest prizes and the Corsicana club will receive a silver loving-cup for the prowess of its members.

Mr. Norris introduced Miss Rutherford, who payed a medey of several popular selections, in a special piano arrangement. Dr. Kelton introduced Judge Jester.

Judge Jester told of the earliest settlers in this section of Navarro county, and told the story of their moving here from Illinois. They settled in the Dresden community but later moved to Corsicana, and formed the first settlement in the vicinity of the Mills Place. One of the men built an establishment on the northwest corner of the courthouse square, the present site of the jail. He said the residence of one of the settlers was designated as the seat of local government, and the first clerk, W. R. White "carried the county's records in his beaver hat."

Navarro Named Town

Judge Jester said later Corsicana was designated as a town by the second legislature of the state, and Antonio Navarro was given the privilege of naming the town. The speaker said up until the time of the civil war there were no more than 400 people in Corsicana, and "I don't think there were as many famous men in any other town in the world than were in those 400." Judge Jester named Roger Q. Mills, C. M. Winkler, John B. Jones, and others coming from that group. He said there were 7 captains in the Confederate army, two lieutenant governors of Texas and one man was offered the supreme court judgeship of Texas.

When the railroad came in 1871, Judge Jester went on, Corsicana became more prominent, and drew a number of outstanding men. The First Methodist church was built in 1871, he said, and in 1872 the Texas democratic convention was held there, and nominated Richard Coke for governor, and named A. H. Willie and R. Q. Mills as congressmen at large. Garitty and Huey established the first bank, and 10 years later the Jester Brothers established the second, the speaker said.

Other Corsicana citizens who have become famous include D. A. Little, James L. Autry, Eric Buckner, Dr. McAfee and H. L. Stone. In closing, Judge Jester told of Corsicana being the birthplace of the oil industry west of the Mississippi, and told what an important part the American Well and Prospecting company had in the industry

75% OF DOCTORS DIE FROM EXHAUSTION

The average Doctor is a good example of what his patients shouldn't do, in the way of burning up energy faster than it can be replaced by nature.

Directly, or indirectly, in the case of 75% of the Doctors who die each year, plain exhaustion is the cause. Depletion from over-work, worry and lack of rest induces heart trouble, kidney disorders, acute gastric conditions.

The physical and mental demand on a Doctor with a busy practice, would appall the average business man. He simply would not be able to understand why the Doctor does not systematize his practice better and insure himself a more healthfully rounded out routine.

However, the patient can often help, by being on time to appointments, telephoning only when necessary, calling at night only in cases of emergency—and co-operating with the Doctor's treatment.

Usually when it is necessary for you to wait on a Doctor, someone has been late to an appointment, or some unexpected emergency has arisen.

JAPAN AGREES TO AMERICAN DEMANDS IN CHINA SECTORS

PROMISE SEND INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE ON UNIVERSITY PROPERTY

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Japan agreed today to meet almost all demands for restitution of American property in China and for the right of unhindered return of Americans to their posts there.

The state department, on the basis of telegrams from the American consul general at Shanghai, announced that:

The Japanese restored to the American Southern Baptist Mission yesterday their high school properties in the Chapei district of Shanghai.

The Japanese military authorities have agreed to the return of American missionaries to Nanking and have issued ten passes for this purpose.

Meanwhile Ambassador Grew at Tokyo was informed today by the Japanese foreign office that Japan was sending an "interdepartmental committee to visit the Japanese controlled area in Central China not only to investigate the situation relating to the occupancy of American property but also to formulate means for satisfactory adjustment of the situation."

This announcement, said the state department, concerned the demand for restitution to the American owners of the University of Shanghai and of other American properties.

The state department's accouncement today indicated that Japan replied to the American representations with a speed considered amazing in diplomacy. The American note announced yesterday was delivered to Japan on May 31. Evidently the Japanese lost no time in acting since Consul General Frank Lockhart at Shanghai telegraphed the same day announcing issuance of the passes for Americans to return to Nanking.

sociation president, subscribed to $270,000 worth of the stock.

The mill he said, would make use of southern timbers in the production of newsprint for the first time, each of the four units would have an annual capacity of 50,000 tons and orders had already been obtained for 865,000 tons of newsprint.

The plant, to be known as the Southland Mills, Inc., with E. L. Kurth as president, would be constructed under the direction of George F. Hardy, Mr. Stahlman announced.

"I think this new industry will be a repitition of the movement of the textile industry to the south," Mr. Stahlman declared. "Following newsprint mills will come rayon and chemical plants and other collateral industries."

The indictment charging illegal fixing of jobbers' profit margins was one of two returned by a federal jury here. On the first indictment, charging conspiracy to raise and fix the price of gasoline in the Midwest in 1935 and 1936, 16 major companies and 30 officials were convicted last Jan. 22. Judge Stone deferred sentencing and took under advisement motions to set aside the convictions. He said today he would rule on them in a week.

On government motion Judge Stone dismissed indictments against 27 employes and officials of companies which were fined today.

INSURGENT POWER DRIVE REPORTED TO BE STALLING

HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier), June 2.—(AP)—The insurgent power drive against the Teruel-Valencia highway appears to be stalling again before increasing government resistance.

In, many sectors of the mountainous front, which guards the highway to the Mediterranean coast, government counter-offensives in the last two days have recaptured territory lost to Spanish Generalissimo Franco's warriors.

Heaviest fighting centered in a 10-mile-zone from insurgent-held Puebla De Valverde on the highway itself toward Mora De Rubielos.

Much of the government resistance was attributed to its revised air corps, which again is disputing mastery of the air with Franco's warplanes.

Barcelona pilots prevented large-scale bombardments of government positions, and in one combat, government dispatches said, 12 insurgent planes were shot down.

Corporation Court.

One charge of affray and disturbing the peace, two of intoxication, and one of running over a stop sign brought offenders into the Corsicana Corporation Court Thursday morning.

from Barcelona and Burgos together.

One obstacle to the Chamberlain program was removed today when Soviet Russia, receding from her previous position, agreed to the British plan for withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain on condition that "effective sea control" be enforced.

Samuel Kagan, Russian member of the non-intervention subcommittee, announced this concession but added that "the Soviet government must reiterate its proposal that international observers be permanently stationed in Spanish ports.

To Meet Again June 10.

(Italian and German aid reaches the Spanish insurgents by sea.)

The sub-committee adjourned to meet again June 10.

General agreement on withdrawal of foreigners from the Spanish armies would simplify Britain's task in arranging an armistice.

Her decision to make the attempt was influenced largely by the belief that Spain's war, now almost two years old, was the major threat to peace and other issues could be wiped clear if it were settled.

British officials disclosed a reply from Insurgent Generalissimo Fransicso Franco to London's protest over the bombing of two British ships, the Thorpehall and Penthames, in air raids on Spanish government ports.

Not Attacked Deliberately.

The reply expressed regret and promised a "full investigation," but declared it was a "misapprehension" for London to believe British shipping was picked deliberately as targets for attack.

The cabinet was understood to have approved Chamberlain's two-fold plans:

1. To bring the Spanish government and Spanish Insurgent together in a roundtable peace conference, a course which unconfirmed reports said Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy already had approved.

2. Negotiation of a solution of the difficulties between the Czechoslovak government and its minority of Sudeten Germans who have the pledged "protection" of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany.

The government's hope of mediating the Spanish civil war, which will have been drawn out for two years on July 18, was based on two factors.

1. The belief in influential quarters that many Spaniards on both sides of the conflict are sick of war and would welcome a peace parley.

2. Definite signs of progress toward obtaining withdrawal of foreign volunteers fighting in the war.

The latter question was scredduel for discussion again at today's session of the 27-nation nonintervention committee.

COAL CASES

Sammy Thomas, Ages, Ky.

Isom testified over defense objections that Harry Bennett, vice president and general manager of the Harlan Central Coal Company, for which he had worked, told him he "could have had the attention of a company doctor if he hadn't joined the union."

On cross examination it was brought out the child died after the Isom family moved from the Harlan central camp.

Arnold Smith, after testifying he was discharged by the Clover Fork company a year ago today because he joined the U.M. W. A., said he had heard company executives avow they would "concrete and drift the mouth of the mine" before they would work union men.

villages north and east of Lanfeng kept Japanese from lifting the siege of the division commanded by Lieutenant General Kenji Doihara, the defenders said.

A Chinese motor unit of 4,500 men fought one of the bitterest battles of the day 20 miles west of Kweiteh, another Lunghai railway point in Honan province. The Chinese were reported routed after several hours' fighting.

The Japanese aerial offensive continued also in south China, and the Canton railway got another of its daily bombardments. A train-load of gasoline was said to have been exploded by the attackers, contributing to a rupture in traffic.

Besides accusing the defendants of conspiring to distribute and sell narcotics in the United States, the government also charged widespread smuggling operations were carried on, mostly through liners arriving in New York.

ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER PRAISES TRIO OF NATIONS

ITALY, GERMANY AND JAPAN PICTURED AS WORLD BENEFACTORS BY CIANO

MILAN, Italy, June 2.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano today pictured Italy, Germany and Japan as world benefactors in fighting bolshevism in Spain and China.

Addressing a foreign policy study congress here, Count Ciano declared that China "imprudently" has aligned herself" with the "dissolving action of bolshevism." He promised closer friendship with Japan, partner with Italy and Germany in an accord against communism.

Italy-German solidarity, he said, was demonstrated on behalf of insurgent Spain, in attacking bolshevism attributed to the Madrid-Barcelona government.

Count Ciano asserted that "Italy attaches great importance to her collaboration with Japan (in anti-communist accord.)"

He reaffirmed Italy's faith in the Rome-Berlin axis and promised a continued policy of "close collaboration and intimate understandings with Nazi Germany."

He said Italian-British relations now were developing on a "basis of clarity and loyalty."

Italy's influence in the Balkans was spreading "without selfish or hegemony designs, but with a sincere spirit of collaboration and comprehension," he said.

FOUR DISTILLERIES PLANNING SHUT DOWN DUE BAD BUSINESS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 2.—(AP)—The flow of legal liquor had narrowed down to a mere trickle in Kentucky today with all but six of the state's 67 distilleries temporarily shut down.

The Taylor and Williams Distilleries, Inc., was the fifty-seventh plant here to close since January 1 and the Schenley Products company announced closing of its Stagg distillery at Frankfort today.

Large scare production for aging purposes shortly after repeal of prohibition and a falling off in demand were cited as reasons for the shutdowns, but prior to prohibition many distilleries regularly ceased operations during the summer.

None of the distilleries here would estimate how many persons were laid off but modern plants today employ comparatively few men and estimates ran as low as 1,500 the number of distillery workers affected.

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Suspension of operations at three of the six Schenley Products Company distilleries and plans to shut down a fourth plant were announced today by Lester E. Jacobi, vice president.

The Stagg Distillery at Frankfort, Ky., was to be closed today. The Finch Distillery at Schenley, Pa., will cease operation June 13.

Within the past two weeks the Old Quaker Distillery at Lawrenceburg, Ind., and the Jas. E. Pepper Distillery at Lexington, Ky., were closed.

It was announced the plants would resume operation when business conditions justify.

Leaders in the distilling industry estimated the greatly reduced Schenley operation brought the number of workers being dismissed in the entire industry in the United States to more than 10,000. They attribute curtailed operations partly to the usual seasonal slump and partly to a sharp falling off in whiskey consumption.

RELIEF FUNDS

I oppose the amendment which the committee has inserted in the bill prohibiting the use of any of these funds under any circumstances for the erection of a competing utility where one already exists."

Before the senate took up the utilities question it overrode its appropriations committee and restored to the spending-lending bill the public works appropriation of $965,000,000 previously approved by the house.

The action came on a standing vote after Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) had led a floor fight to increase the $865,000,000 total which the committee approved.

During consideration of the appropriation Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) opened a drive to earmark funds in the $3,247,000,000 lending-spending bill for specific purposes.

He asked the senate to assign $100,000,00 of the proposed $865,000,000 PWA appropriation to reclamation and irrigation projects.

"If you want to add to the capital assets of my part of the country," he told the senate, "this is the only way to do it.

"You know about the dust bowl. There have been droughts in the Great Plains states for years."

Several other anti-administration senators also planned to submit earmarking proposals.

Morgenthau's Statement.

Earlier Secretary Morgenthau said congress should give President Roosevelt virtually unlimited authority to determine how funds should be spent in the new relief public works program.

"In the present situation where we do not expect congress to meet again until next January and do not know whether the economic situation will get better or worse," the treasury chief said, "the wise thing would be to give the President the right, as he had in other bills, to transfer funds from one title to another in order to take care of the situation."

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that the President and his advisors were considering spending several hundred million dollars of relief funds to increase domestic consumption of surplus farm products. The purpose would be to strengthen farm prices and supply food to needy families.

Farm Program.

The farm program discussed at a White House conference this week would have a two-fold objective:

1. To supplement efforts of the Agriculture department, through the new crop control law, to bolster declining prices of farm commodities.

2. To provide undernourished and underclothed relief and low income families with larger supplies of food and cotton products.

The proposal, if adopted, probably would expand activities of the federal surplus commodities corporation, which has been buying surplus perishable farm commodities to bolster prices.

Its purchases, which have been small compared to those contemplated under the new program, are distributed to needy families through relief agencies.

Agriculture department official said purchases would be made through regular trade channels, thus releasing funds more quickly to stimulate business.

Seek Purchase Grapefruit Juice

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) has urged Secretary Wallace to act favorably on the request of citrus growers in the Rio Grande valley that the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation buy surplus grapefruit juice to bolster a depressed market.

Connally said the action was needed because the unusually large citrus crop in Texas this year had forced growers to process about half into juice.

Roosevelt's Views Sought by Committee

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—An outline of the exact wage-hour bill President Roosevelt desires would be welcomed by the committee appointed to draft compromise legislation, four senate members said today.

Disclaiming knowledge of any intention on the part of Mr. Roosevelt to make a public statement, Senator Thomas (D-Utah) said he thought the committeemen would not resent such an expression.

When the President recently outlined his views on the tax revision bill in a letter to the conferees, some criticism was voiced privately. But Thomas commented:

"I thin the President has a perfect right to express his views, for he is rightfully interested in seeing that satisfactory legislation is passed."

Mr. Roosevelt in public statements has indicated a preference for a wage differential.

Southerners fighting a nationally uniform wage scale were cheered yesterday by senate adoption of an amendment to the relief bill providing that, if a wage-hour bill finally is enacted its "floor" for wages would become the minimum pay for WPA workers. Communities where the prevailing wage is higher than the bill establishes would be exempt.

WPA workers now receive the minimum wage prevailing in their locality, just as the Walsh-Healey act makes similar provision for workers on government contracts.

Seeking Probe Of Radio Industry

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Commissioner George Payne of the communications commission, charging that the commission has been "susceptible to outside pressure," asked the house rules committee today to authorize a congressional investigation of the radio industry.

Some of the lawyers who practice before the commission, Payne said, "have become arrogant and are in the habit of commanding, rather than of asking or pleading.

"Their influence and pressure are altogether too great."

Payne spoke of "active lobbyists" at the commission headquarters but declined to identify them. He agreed, however, to return to a closed meeting of the committee Tuesday to give details of his charges.

Chairman McNinch had said earlier that the commission hoped to start early next month "a thorough, business-like" investigation of the radio industry, including charges of monoply.

He told the committee the investigation would inquire into relationships between the big radio chains and their affiliated stations, the degree of control over stations not owned by chains, and "monopoly as a whole."

McNinch said the commission might inquire into complaints that some radio stations do not grant equal threatment to political candidates.

Reject Gillette Amendment.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—The senate last night rejected a proposal of Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) which would have increased by $24,000,000 the payments to corn and wheat farmers from the new $212,000,000,000 farm relief fund.

The amendment was submitted by Senator Pope (D-Idaho) at the request of the Iowan, now in Iowa campaigning for renomination.

Pope said the Gillette plan would make $83,200,000 available to cotton farmers, $65,200,000 available for corn payments, and $59,800,000 for wheat.

These totals, he said, compared with a little more than $100,000,000 for cotton, $50,000,000 for corn and $50,000,000 for wheat.

SMALL SHIPPING IN ENGLISH CHANNEL IS SMASHED BY GALE

LONDON, June 2.—(AP)—An 80-mile-an-hour gale smashed small shipping in the English channel today and pounded the coast and downs of Southern England.

One yacvhtsman died of exposure and another was feared lost. Many were rescued by lifeboats and warships rushed to the aid of distressed yachts and fishing boast.

The storm kept the liner Queen Mary outside the harbor of Cherbourg, France, for 16 hours before she could pick up New York bound passengers there.

It flattened every tent in an army camp of 800 soldiers at Manorbrier, Wales, tore a balloon loose from its moorings and razed show tents at Bournemouth's swank Royal Counties agricultural show.

GOVERNOR ALLRED DECLINES TO FIGHT FOR BODY AUSTIN

REFUSAL OF OFFICIALS OF POTOSI, MO., CONSIDERED FINAL IN MATTER

AUSTIN, June 2.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred acquiesced today in refusal of Potosi, Mo., officials to surrender the remains of Moses Austin, who is closely identified with early colonization of Texas.

"We don't want any lawsuit and if Texas ever gets the remains of Austin it will be through the graciousness of the people of Potosi," the governor said.

Austin was the founder of Potosi and the father of Stephen F. Austin, one of the founders of the republic of Texas.

Recently an attempt to transfer the body to the state cemetery in Austin was thwarted by the Potosi city council. The governor later dispatched Secretary of State Ed Clark to Potosi to explain why Texas values the memory of Austin.

Clark reported Missouri state officials and the Potosi city council had politely rejected a suggestion that Texas build a memorial at the Austin grave site in exchange for the body.

He added Potosi citizens and officials were organizing a memorial association with the idea of constructing a monument at the grave and that Texas might be invited to participate.

Governor Allred said he would encourage the co-operation of Texans and might attend the dedication.

"There is no occasion for ill will between Texas and Missouri over the incident," he said. "I fully appreciate the position of the Potosi and Missouri people and officials."

Clark said Moses Austin laid out the town of Potosi and donated a 40-acre site for a court house and at one time served as a county offical before he arranged for colonization of Texas, a plan which his son eventually carried out.

GAS SYSTEM

to pay off the cost of the distribution system in fifteen years, and after that time the system would contribute an even greater amount to city revenues than the water department, and would result in a lowering of the tax rate to a considerable extent and would give lower rates to gas consumers.

The mayor said the gas system would be able to return greater revenues because it would be constructed of new materials which would last many years; he pointed out that the water system taken over in 1923 by the city had been in service many years and present net revenues were lowered by the almost constant need of replacements.

After conferring with officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Works Progress Administration, and the Public Works Administration, the mayor said that he and Commissioner Burke were convinced that financial propositions very favorable to municipal interests could be secured by making use of all three agencies.

File Formal Notice

On the advice of Washington officials, the Corsicana representatives filed a formal notice of intention to file applications for the various projects and secured the necessary application forms for completion on their return home. Work has been started on the compilation of the necessary data.

The mayor declared that it was not his intention nor that of any member of the commission to force the gas distribution project on the citizens of Corsicana but it was their belief that substantial savings could be made and a source of revenue secured for the municipality that would pay good dividends, and at the same time would aid in the conservation of the natural resources of the state of Texas. He said much of the gas that could be used by Corsicana citizens is now being burned by huge flares in order to get rid of it.

The mayor also reported presidential approval had been secured on a project to replace and extend several sections of water mains and that would probably be under way within two weeks.

PRESBYTERIANS ASK ROOSEVELT TO AID DISARMAMENT WORK

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—(AP)—A plea against the shipment of scrap iron from the United States to Japan for use in the Chinese war received with applause at today's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.

The plea was contained in the report of the women's committee of the board of foreign missions.

The report of the standing committee on foreign missions denounced "ruthless killing of non-combatants in China," and proferred sympathy to all innocent Chinese and Japanese "caught in this barbarous war."

The general assembly's delegates voted to "work and pray for the return of prohibition" and appealed to President Roosevelt for an international conference on disarmament.

"The increasing armament of the nations, wars and the preparation for war everywhere in progress, invite the judgement of God," said a report of the committee on social education and action, adopted by the 150th general assembly.

"Governments have apparently turned their backs on the hope of a world community based on peace and justice x x .We, as Christians, however, dare not surrender the hope of peace, for we follow one who is the Prince of Peace."

The 7,000-word report noted a "widening breach" between classes in America and urged "ceaseless vigilance in safeguarding the civil liberties of all people."

MEXICO TELEPHONE STRIKE LEADERS IN ANOTHER THREAT

MEXICO CITY, June 2.—(AP)—Leaders of a short-lived strike which disrupted one of Mexico's two telephone systems, the Ericsson company threaten a new strike unless their troubles are settled.

They are embroiled in a dispute with another union.

Fifty-two thousand telephones were silenced yesterday before labor department officals convinced the workers the strike was "unpatriotic"—out of line with President Cardenas' plea that labor troubles not be added to the government's worries.

Cardenas today was touring San Luis Potosi state, center of an agrarian uprising now said officially to have been edded. From there he will leave for an inspection of expropriated oil properties or will visit lower California.

Sixty-five per cent of the girls and half the boys said they turned to their parents when worried or in trouble.

Three out of four living in villages would move it they could. Almost half those on farms wanted to live elsewhere, with preference shown for cities and suburbs in both groups.

In investigating the economic status of families concerned Bell reported that opportunities for a young person to live his own life "vary both with the father's occupational and income level and with the size of the family."

Data indicated that the size of the family decreased as the population of a community increased and that the number of children in white families on relief was substantially larger than in white non-relief families.

The cat was approaching stealthily when boys smashed the clam with a stone.

FORMAL ANSWER FILED TUESDAY PARTITION SUIT

HUGH A. DRANE, ET AL, SEEKS DISMISSAL APPLICATION RECEIVER

A formal answer in the case of Frank Neal Drane vs. Hugh A. Drane, et al., partition, etc., was filed in the district court today by Hugh A. Drane, Dallas, and Hugh Drane, Jr. The answer prays that the application of the plaintiff for the appointment of a receiver be dismissed, and for such other and further orders, both general and special, to which they might be entitled.

The lengthy document contained agreements, wills, court orders, etc., involving the estate of both Mrs. Florance A. Drane, deceased and Dorothy A. Drane, deceased.

The answer was signed by Hugh Albert Drane, Lovett and Lovett, Corsicana attorneys, and Irving L. Goldberg and Martin B. Wenfrey, both of Dallas.

Allegations Denied.

The answer pointed out that Hugh A. Drane was executor of the estate of Mrs. Florence Adelia Drane and also Dorothy A. Drane, both deceased. It denied there were any legal grounds for the appointment of such receiver, declared that the estate was in good condition—that under Hugh Drane's administration the debts against the estate had been reduced about $300,000; denied all and singular the allegations contained in the original petition of the plaintiff; and claimed that the elder Drane had entered an agreement in the 44th Judicial District Court of Dallas county whereby Hugh A. Drane and Dorothy A. Drane were named as trustees of the estate of Mrs. Drane after Mr. Drane was incapacitated and the First National Bank in Dallas, Texas, had declined to be executor of the estate.

In Possession Plaintiff.

The defendants answer pointed out that much of the estate was in the possession and control of the plaintiff and also pointed out that Hugh A. Drane was solvent personally with an estate in excess of $250,000 in addition to his interest in his mother's estate. He claimed he had furnished statements and audits to his father. The defendant alleged the plaintiff agreed to the appointment of his two children as trustees in 1936 in the court order entered in Dallas. The answer alleged the elder Drane had been incapacitated at times during the past several years so that he could not personally look after his extensive interests.

The document suggested the court could use injunctive powers to prevent the sale of the properties involved in the community estate, except upon written order of the court, rather than appointing a receiver with the attendant heavy expense, etc.

The elder Drane Saturday night conveyed his estate, appraised at approximately $800,000 to the Navarro Community Foundation for religious, educational and charitable purposes, which is controlled by a board of trustees. The deed of conveyance was filed for record in the office of Lonnie L. Powell, county clerk, Monday night.

REORGANIZATION BILL SHELVED FOR PRESENT SESSION

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS MAKE DECISION ON TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and congressional leaders have shelved the govern ient reorganization bill for this session, informed members of both the house and senate reported today.

They reported this course was agreed upon at an early morning strategy conference at the White House as a means of clearing the way for action on pending bills, including the spending-lending measures and speeding final adjournment.

Formal disclosure of the plan was expected to be made in statements which senate Majority Leader Barkley said, upon leaving the White House, would be issued "in a day or two, probably tomorrow."

Barkley was said to have reported to President Roosevelt that there was "growing" opposition to the spending bill because of uncertainty over whether the reorganization controversy would be revived.

The senate has limited debate on the bill as a means of bringing it to a vote soon.

Speaker Bankhead was one of those attending the White House conference. Others were Vice-President Garner, Barkley and Majority-Leader Rayburn of the house.

Immediately after the White house conference Barkley, the spokesman, would not say whether a final decision had been reached on whether to scrap the reorganization measure or attempt to put it through before adjournment.

He said that "a definite statement" would be made "in a day or two, probably tomorrow. He said the statement would be issued from the capitol, rather than the White House.

The conferees declined further explanation.

Rayburn observed that congress might adjourn on "the 11th or 12th or 13th." Asked what month he meant he laughed and departed.

Following his return to the capital Bankhead said at a press conference that the re-organization pronouncement would be a "joint statement" from the senate and house. It probably will come from the special re-organization committees.

Neither he nor Rayburn, however, would hint at whether an attempt would be made to revive the bill.

It was understood the conferees were especially concerned with chances for enactment at this session of three parts of the reorganization program.

These sections, which need only senate approval to send them to the White House, are:

A provision for appointment of six administrative assistants to the President.

Creation of a new department of public welfare.

Re-enactment with some changes of reorganization powers granted the President by congress in the early days of his administration.

JAPANESE AIRMEN RAID TWO CHINESE CITIES TUESDAY

SHANGHAI, May 31.—(AP)—Japan's air forces today struck heavily at two centers vital to Chinese resistance, Hankow, provisional capital, and Canton, southern metropolis and gateway for war supplies from abroad.

Thirty planes attacked Hankow, and Japanese accounts said they shot down 18 Chinese planes in dogfights over and near the city. The Hankow airfield was heavily bombed. Japanese admitted one of their own planes was missing.

It was the first big raid on Hankow since that of Emperor Hirorito's birthday, April 29, in which over 50 Chinese and Japanese planes fought a half-hour's indecisive battle.

Canton, through which most of China's munitions from abroad pass, was raided for the fourth successive day, but Chinese said that four of 22 attacking planes were shot down.

Hongkong dispatches said the Japanese air forces spread their attacks over the wide area around Canton, raiding many towns in central and northern Kwangtung province.

Refugees, including some American and other foreign women and children, poured into British Hongkong for safety.

Meanwhile Chinese said large numbers fo Japanese were trapped in a 21-mile square segment of the 250-mile central China front, from which the Japanese hope at a stategic moment to attempt a general offensive on Hankow.

The division commanded by Lieutenant-General Kenji Dolhara, Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria," was among those now completely encircled, the Chinese said, and there seemed little chance for escape.

Dolhara's troops and others under siege were in the bitterly contested region about Lanfeng, on the Lunghai railway. They have been trying to press westward through Lanfeng, 73 miles to Changchow, and from there turn southward for a 300-mile push to Hankow.

Should these units among the 400,000 men estimated to comprise the Japanese army on the central front reach Chengchow, they would be able with their compatriots to make a concerted drive toward Hankow.

China has an estimated force of 1,000,000 men along the cresend-shaped front extending northwest from Wuhu on the Yangtze river through Anhwei province to Lanfeng.

Japanese claimed capture of Pohsien, 40 miles south of the Lunghai and a central point on the front but Chinese denied this.

There was fighting in the streets of Hofei, on the Japanese left wing 65 miles northwest of Wuhu, and Japanese there were reported blocked in their efforts to occupy the city.

Demonstration And 4-H Projects That Prove Interesting

A pretty hand-towel of soft yellow Indian head linen has just been made by Lilla Su Godwin, member of the Zions Rest 4-H Club.

The towel is eighteen inches wide and twenty-seven inches long. The sides of the towel have one fourth inch hems whipped in by hand, while each end is finished with a one and one-fourth inch fringed edge. Just above the fringe a row of cross stitching in a contrasting color adds to the decorative touch, while her monogram in one and one-half inch letters in the center of one end finishes the decorative scheme in a very attractive manner.

"I have a new built-in cabinet in my kitchen,' 'said Mrs. J. E. Slone of the Corbet Home Demonstration Club recently..

"The cabinet extends across one end of the kitchen and is eleven feet and seven inches long and twenty inches wide. I have two half-sash windows in the center of the unit; then on either side I have a two-door cabinet each of which has five shelves. Below the working-surface I have storage behind two sets of doors, eight drawers, and three bins. To the left side I have a cleaning closet for mops, brooms, etc." continued Mrs. Slone.

The cabinet is painted white with small accents of green, while the top of the work-surface is treated with linseed oil and clear varnish.

A portable built-in kitchen cabinet has just been added to Mrs. Charlie Guantt's kitchen. Mrs. Guantt is the kitchen demonstrator for the Stansell Home Demonstration Club.

The cabinet is ten feet long and twenty inches wide with a window above the sink and built-in cabinets on either side of the window. The cabinet includes storage in shelves, bins, and drawers. The entire cabinet is built and so reinforced that it may be moved as a unit. The cabinet was built to exactly fit the wall space it was to be placed in.

The cabinet is painted ivory with black knobs as an accent.

Mrs. Pete Harville, poultry demonstrator for the Emhouse Home Demonstration Club, has more than filled her requirements in the number of chickens needed in her flock for she has sixty hens and two hundred and twenty baby chicks.

In calculating the number needed in the flock one should allow ten hens for every member in the family; then each year raise three baby chicks for each hen in the flock. Mrs. Harville's family consists of three members, therefore, three x ten hens equals thirty hens needed—she has sixty; three x thirty hens equals ninety baby chicks—she has two hundred and twenty.

The sale of surplus eggs buys all feed, etc., needed for the poultry flock and also the staple groceries needed by the family.

PRESIDENT CARDENAS FEELS SURE CEDILLO REVOLT STAMPED OUT

FOLLOWERS OF SAN LUIS POTOSI CHIEFTAIN PACIFIED WITH LANDS

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 31.—(AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas, sure the 11-day-old rebellion of Saturnino Cedello was stamped out, prepared today to visit the oil fields he expropriated from British and American companies March 18.

The chief executive was expected to leave for Tampico, chief oil shipping point, by the end of the week. He instructed Vincente Cortes Herrera, general manager of the Government Oil company, to meet him there.

Should Cedillo escape to the United States, the chief executive said the rebel chieftain need not fear any attempt to extradite him and, should be be captured, the law would determine the tribunal before which he would be tried.

As a means of pacifying Cedello's erstwhile followers, it was announced 390,000 acres of land in 66 communities had been distributed among 39,279 individuals, among them many of Cedello's peasant agrarians in San Luis Potosi state. Further distribution was to be made, it was said.

Government sources said troops pursuing Cedello into the hills had come upon some of his belongings, including a small printing plant. Seven thousand troops were close on his trail, it was declared, and his followers now did not exceed 50.

Oil brokers in London said Royal Dutch Shell, fearful Mexican expropriation of its properties would lead to similar action in Venezuela, was exerting powerful pressure upon the British government to maintain a stiff attitude.

(Mexico severed diplomatic relations wth Britain as a result of British demands for restoration of Mexican oil properties to Dutch Shell. Shell has large interests in Venezuela, world's third largest oil producer.)

Four Killed in Clash.

MEXICO CITY, May 31.—(AP)—Dispatches today from Villahermosa, state of Tabasco, said three men and a woman were killed in a clash between police and Catholics demanding the reopening of churches.

Trouble had been brewing for two weeks, with Catholics massing to press their demands.

The dispatches said three children and a policeman were wounded in the disorders yesterday. Gov. Victor Fernandez Manero accused the Catholics of attacking police.

Protest Killings.

DURANGO, Mexico, May 31.—(AP)—A fleet of 13 trucks brought more than 400 farmers here yesterday to protest to Durango state officials the death of two of their fellows a the hands of "ejudatarios"—communal farmers who receiver land grants from the government.

The communal farmers, they declared, had invaded their lands, despite repeated assurances of President Cardenas, and shot to death two brothers.

SUPREME COURT IN REPLY TO CRITICISM KANSAS CITY CASE

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGHES DENIES OPINIONS CONFLICT, REHEARING REFUSED

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Chief Justice Hughes held, in a vigorously-worded decision, today that administration contentions the supreme court had reversed itself in the Kansas City stockyards case were unwarranted and wholly unfounded.

Far from reversing itself, Hughes said in an opinion delivered just before the court adjourned for the summer, the court's decisions had been thoroughly consistent.

Both Secretary Wallace and Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson had contended the court, in an April 25 decision, had held procedure to whi ' it had not objected two years earlier, to be "fatally defective." On the basis of this contention a rehearing was asked.

In denying this request, Hughes replied, in effect, that the court must insist that government agencies give full and adequate hearings in quasi-judicial proceedings.

In other actions before adjourning the court:

1—Ruled that National Labor Relations record board may withdraw from the circuit court of appeals at Philadelphia litigation involving an order directing the Republic Steel Corporation to reinstate 5,000 striking employes.

2—Approved a 1937 order issued by Harry L. Brown, as acting secretary of agriculture, fixing maximum rates to be charged by the Denver Union Stock Yards company.

3—Postponed until next fall action on a petition by Thomas J. Mooney, seeking release from San Quentin penitentiary, where he is serving a life sentence for complicity in the San Francisco preparedness day parade bombing.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The supreme court replied to criticism by administration officials today by denying flatly that it had reversed itself in the celebrated Kansas City stockyards decision.

Chief Justice Hughes read an opinion, to which Justice Black dissented, denying a government petition for reconsideration of the April 25 decision.

The tribunal had condemned procedure followed by the secretary of agriculture in ordering a reduction of charges permitted commission men at the Kansas City stockyards.

Hughes said assertions by solicitor general, Robert H. Jackson that the court had reversed itself were "unwarranted."

Both Jackson and Secretary Wallace had contended the court in its April 25 decision had termed "fatally defective" procedure to which it had not objected in an opinion two years earlier.

Saying that the government had contended "that the court has reversed itself; that the present decision is 'directly contrary to the law of the case' as established by the court's decision on the former appeal; and that 'a procedural omission' previously held to be of no significance' is now regarded as "fatally defective," Hughes added:

"These assertions are unwarranted. Not only are the two decisions consistent, but the rule announced in our former opinion was applied and was decisive of the present appeal. And the government is in no position to claim surprise. x x x

"The effort to establish a case for rehearing, either because of an asserted inconsistency in our rulings, or because of lack of opportunity for full argument, is futile."

Justices Cardozo and Reed did not participate in the action.

Chief Justice Hughes, who wrote the recent six to one opinion (Justice Black dissenting) said the secretary of agriculture had not given the commission merchants an opportunity to learn the government contentions and to contest them.

Following this decision, the national labor relations board attempted to withdraw from federal circuit courts litigation involving the Republic Steel Corporation, Ford Motor Company and other concerns in order to adopt new procedure. The court ruled today that the board could withdraw the Republic Steel case.

Wallace has contended in a series of statements that the procedure condemned was put into effect by the previous administration and has now been abandoned.

Mooney Decision Delayed

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The supreme court postponed action today on a petition by Thomas J. Mooney, serving a life sentence in San Quintin penitentiary for complicity in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day parade bombing. It will come up again in the fall.

Court Refuses Save Men.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Two men convicted of killing Wimberly W. Baker, federal agent, at the Topeka, Kas., postoffice in April, 1937, failed to induce the supreme court today to prevent their death by hanging.

The court refused to pass upon a decision of the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals upholding the convictions of Robert Suhay and Glen Applegate in the federal district court of Topeka.

Stockyard Charges Order Approved

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The supreme court approved today an order issued by Harry L. Brown, acting secretary of agriculture on February 17, 1937, fixing maximum rates to be charged by the Denver Union Stock Yard Company.

In a decision by Justice Butler, the tribunal affirmed a ruling by a three-judge federal district court in Colorado dismissing the litigation and ordering the stock yard company to refund to its customers the difference between the higher amount collected and the charges specified in the order.

The reduced rates were not put into effect pending disposition of the litigation.

New rates were ordered after the acting secretary of agriculture decided that the proper valuation of the stock yard was $2,792,681 on which it was entitled to earn six and one-half per cent. The stockyard contended the valuation should have been $4,000,000 and the lower figure amounted to "confiscation."

Butler announced no dissent. Justice Black concurred in the result and Justice Cardozo did not participate.

LABOR RELATIONS BOARD PERMITTED TO WITHDRAW ORDER

GOVERNMENT VICTORY SECURED IN SUPREME COURT RULING ON CASE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The supreme court ruled today that the National Labor Relations board may withdraw from the Third Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia litigation involving an order directing the Republic Steel Corporation to reinstate 5,000 striking employes.

Justice Roberts delivered the opinion that reversed a decision by the circuit court judges refusing permission to withdraw and directing the board to proceed with the litigation by filing a transcript of the record. Justices Butler and McReynolds dissented and Justices Stone and Cardozo did not participate.

"The circuit court," Roberts said, "was without jurisdiction of the subject matter. If the board had complied with the orders made, a hearing would have resulted respecting the legality of supposed action of the board which was not in law or fact the final action, review of which the statute provides.

"No adequate remedy would be open to the board by way of certiorari from the court's ultimate review of an order which the board was authorized and desired to set aside."

Decision Studied.

Officials studied the high court's decision to determine whether it also would apply to the board's effort to withdraw from the circuit court at Covington, Ky., litigation involving the Ford Motor Company. In that case the board said it already had filed a transcript.

Immediately after the decision was delivered, the labor board gave notice it would renew its attempt to reopen the Ford case.

Robert Watts, acting general counsel for the board, disclosed the board's intentions by filing with the circuit court at Covington, Ky., a long list of objections to a Ford petition to take depositions from board members and employes.

Watts contended the Ford petition was "going behind the record," he also termemd it a "fishing expedition" and contended that the Covington court had no right to authorize the inquiries counsel for Ford planned to make.

Withdrawal Decided Upon.

Withdrawal of the litigation, in order to adopt new procedure, was decided upon after the supreme court on April 25 had condemned procedure followed by Secretary Wallace in ordering a reduction of rates that commission board wished to adopt new procedure in order to meet possible supreme court objections.

Both Republic Steel and the Ford Motor Company complained that the board, before issuing its orders, had not given them trial examiner's reports and permitted them to reply. They contended this had prejudiced their rights and denied them a fair hearing.

The board contended the labor relations act empowered it to withdraw litigation any time before a transcript was filed. It asked the supreme court for a writ of mandamus directing the circuit court to take the requested action.

The high court also refused to reconsider its recent action declining to review a challenge by Remington Rand, Inc., of a labor board order directing it to reinstate 4,000 striking employes.

An appeal by the central executive council of Remington Rand Employers' Associations challenging the board order, also was turned down.

The employers' association is an organization of company employes.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes

SPRING TIME CLEANSING.

If you feel dragged out when a hot day descends upon you suddenly, try one of these old-time cleansers and tonics given in today's talk.

E. K. Forbes.

Long ago, there was a special period when everybody took what they then termed "a blood purifier," and the time to take it was after most of the cold weather was over, and before the very warm days in the spring. It is possible, too, that they needed this preparation for hot weather even more than we do today, for we live differently now, and also know about diet.

If we did the perfect thing for ourselves, we probably never would need extra cleansing period; but, since this is far from what we should be doing for ourselves, suppose we consider some of those very helpful remedies, nature's offerings, to put us in better condition. We will take fewer colds over the changing seasons from cold to hot, if our systems are kept running perfectly. The pure blood stream would be the result of it, too. There would be no feeling of weakness either, when a very warm day comes suddenly, if the body were not storing too much that was toxic.

There were herbs and roots for teas that cannot be surpassed today by any preparation for cleansing and toning the system. One formula is that of dandelion, burdock, and yellow-dock. I believe it amounted to ten cents' worth of each, making thirty cents for roots of the three to make a brew for a good sized family. A wineglassful three times a day for each adult over the needed period settled the whole matter. There was the sulphur and molasses mixture, too.

Dandelion alone is a tonic and cleanser, convenient enough for any one either to dig up for its roots or use the leaves in a brew, or eaten in a salad.

Mrs. B. K.—You can make yourself a patter, since the usual ones are too costly! One reader wrote to me that she took a cheap shoe form and turned it into a very satisfactory patter. The kind she used had a wooden toe form, held by a springy metal handle, and at the other end of the metal was a small ball-shape wooden piece to be placed in the heel of the shoe. All types of stores are full of these, the simplest of the shoe forms. She covered the wooden toe portion with plenty of absorbent cotton, and used the flat side for the patting. The metal band, or handle, was perfect for holding it, and also to give the necessary spring which the regular face-patters have. It would be well to have a non-absorbent cover over all of it; otherwise the cotton will be taking up the cream from the skin. Silk rubber, which is a material that will not absorb, and it also may be washed off, could be the right thing for a cover.

S. C.—Sweet almond oil will look a bit toward a straw color, not white. The almonds are not really white. Oil pressed from them would appear to be darker than the nuts.

Mrs. J. H.—Vinegar in the last rinse of the shampoo softens the water, although it does not sound as if it should; it also cuts all the soap, so if any is left on the hair, it will come away in that final rinse.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' three NEW beauty booklets: 1. "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty." (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty." (3) "Eating And Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s.a.s.e.). New Orleans Cotton Opens Higher

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 to 7 points net higher today on accumulated overnight buying orders and some covering by shorts.

Favorable foreign markets, reports of a moderate pickup in textile activity and expectations of low crop estimates aided sentiment in early dealings.

July opened at 8.16, Oct. 8.13, Dec. 8.14, Jan. 8.13, March 8.10, and May at 8.23. Trading was moderately active after the start, and towards the end of the firs half hour active months were ruling 8 points net higher.

Towards mid-session July traded to 8.03, Oct. to 8.03, Dec. to 8.07, March to 8.15 and May 8.14, or unchanged to 3 points lower compared with the previous close.

A private estimate placing the crop at 9,815,000 bales was issued during the day but was offset by a second and larger forecast of 12,027,000 bales.

Weather conditions over the belt were unfavorable with light to havy rains reported in the central and eastern sections and scattered showers in h west.

The turnover yesterday was 33,750 bales and open commitments 358,800 bales, an increase of 1,350 bales over the previous day.

Former Convict Seized on Threat To Blow Up Bank

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 2.—(AP)—Police announced today they had seized a former convict as he threatened to blow up a crowded downtown bank unless he was given $10,000.

Detective Sergeant Thomas G. McGreevy said the man had two sticks of dynamite in one pocket and a bottle containing an unidentified fluid in the other.

McGreevy said the man gave his name as Dino De Elbe, 32, and bore in his pocket a discharge from Huntsville, Texas, penitentiary.

He said the man stepped up to the window of Teller Robert Dentinger and presented a note on which was scrawled a demand for $10,000 "or else I'll blow you all up."

Dentinger made the man wait, and summoned McGreevy and Bank Officer George H. McGee, who seized him.

The incident occurred in the Liberty Bank of Buffalo, which is housed in a downtown skyscraper.

KIDNAPING

It was learned that the anguished mother, who had been prostrate with grief, finally was sleeping.

The posses, covering an area of 80 square miles, turned in a number of articles that might or might not be clues. Among them were two striped convict's outfits complete with hat, jacket and trousers found in a field. The suits and various other findings were sent to Miami for investigation.

The FBI announced it would pay double the face value of the banknotes to finders of the first 100 bills of the $10,000 ransom. Serial numbers of the 1,500 bills were broadcast yesterday.

Finders must deliver the bills to the Miami bureau without reporting the discovery to anyone else in order to receive the payment.

A $500 reward for the capture and conviction of the kidnapers was posted by the Palm Beach town council and the Dade (Miami) county commission offered $1,000 reward for apprehension of the snatcher on conditions still to be specified by the FBI.

Posses Renew Search

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—Federal agents called upon reinforced posses today to help solve the kidnaping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., although there was no development upon which to base even a hope the five-year-old tow-headed boy was alive.

The federal men centered efforts on tracking down the abductors, who accepted a $10,000 ransom payment without returning the victim.

Would Kill Back Taxes.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Senator Lonergan (D-Conn) introduced a bill today to prevent the collection of back taxes on the income of state and municipal employes.

OFFICIALS PRAISED EXHIBITORS QUALITY OF ANIMALS ENTERED

ONE DAY DAIRY SHOW HERE TUESDAY IS BIG SUCCESS; LARGELY ATTENDED

Exhibitors at the five-county Dairy Show held on the grounds of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show Tuesday were highly complimented by the officials in charge on the quality of their animals and at the same time were urged to see that they had proper care and to insure success in their livestock ventures by raising plenty of cheap feed.

A total of ninety-six animals were entered in the contests for judging against standards, and in each division the judges explained how each animal failed or succeeded in conforming to the standard types.

W. G. Middleton of Hillsboro was declared the owner of both of the grand champions of the show with Poppy's O'server Poppy, three-year old bull, taking top honors in the male champion class, and Raleigh Joy of Viewpoint, four-year old cow, was declared champion in the female class. Both animals were Jerseys.

Ribbons Awarded.

Tabulation of the results showed that the ninety-six animals were shown by forty-two breeders, representative practically every one of the five counties in the show area. Out of the total entries, seventeen animals were awarded blue ribbons, representing conformity in 85 points or more out of a possible 100; 47 were awarded red ribbons, representing between 75 and 85 points of conformity. Only nine animals in the show failed to score a minimum of 65 points and receive the third award.

Lilla Sue Goodwin of the Zions Rest 4-H Girls Club was awarded the first prize in the milk products competition for her division and was awarded a bedspread; Mrs. John W. Terry of McMurray Hill county, won the womens' division and was awarded a handsome kitchen ware set. Odell Hall of Kaufman, was declared winner in the men's division and received a prize of merchandise.

Results in the boys' judging division were: First, Marvin Knight, Odd Fellows Home 4-H Club; second (tie) Leon Mitchell, Martins Mill, Van Zandt county, and Billy Redden, Odd Fellows Club; third (tie) Richard Perry, Odd Fellows Home Club, and Gordon Walker of the Waxahachie 4-H Club.

Boys were entered from 4-H clubs in Navarro, Ellis, and Van Zandt counties; Future Farmers clubs from Emhouse, Barry, Blooming Grove, Kerens and Ennis were represented.

In the adult judging division, Buster Hitchcock of Ennis was declared the winner.

Little Miss Mary Ann Middleton of Hillsboro was declared the winner in the cow-calling contest over seventeen opponents, although it was necessary to have a "call-off" with two other contenders.

Basket Lunch Served.

During the noon hour, the several hundred attendants at the show enjoyed a basket lunch, and also were entertained by musical numbers by the Corsicana High School and State Home bands.

When the bulls three years and older were judged, D. T. Simmonds, veteran field representative for the American Jersey Cattle Club, took occasion to pay high compliments to the seven entries, who took two blue and five red ribbons. He stated the class represented perhaps ten per cent of the best animals in the entire southwest. He related that the two blue ribbon winners were rated "very good," and that in fourteen previous shows, only two animals had been found meriting the "excellent" or top rating.

Following the conclusion of the judging, the officials in charge made short talks to the crowd gathered, E. R. Eudaly, extension service dairyman, told the group that out of fourteen previous shows, only two had shown more blue ribbon winners. He admitted this section had good cattle, and complimented the exhibitors but insisted they must have cheap feed and plenty of it if they were to meet foreign competition.

Eudaly asserted the present low prices on milk products resulted from a bountiful supply and foreign competition, adding that the imported goods could not compete with American goods at present prices but would be able to at higher levels. He also pointed out that foreign competition enjoyed its advantage because of a lower cost of production, for its total cost approximated the feed costs of American producers. He also commented on the growing competition from oleomargarine.

The dairy specialist told his listeners that the creapest milk could be produced from green pastures and feeds, adding that many feeds could not be profitably raised and harvested at present prices but would show a profit if harvested by dairy beef cattle. He urged more and better pastures, and especially urged the adoption of trench silos for winter feeding, claiming the advantage for this storage method of being wetproof, fireproof, windproof, rat and insect proof, in addition to lower cost of construction and maintenance.

Fine Cattle Here.

D. T. Simonds asserted that the success of the new agricultural programs would depend entirely on the producing of better grades of dairy and beef cattle on the average farm. He again said the Corsicana show had some of the nicest cattle seen on the extended circuit, and that this district had more than its share of blue ribbon winners, particularly in the bull class. He said he was glad to see the area was bull-minded because good bulls were the basic requirement of an improved quality of livestock. He said cattle breeding was a three-sided affair, with good feed, proper care, and animals of proven ability sharing equal honors as factors of success. He urged the farmers of this territory to start their improved herd when prices were low and grow into the livestock business, rather than go into the business when prices were high and then quit when prices tumbled

R. W. Knight, chamber of commerce official, extended thanks for the sponsors to all who co-operated in staging the show, and introduced several county agents in attendance.

R. L. Harris, arrangements chairman, announced the statistics for the entries, and invited all the exhibitors to return during the Navarro county fair early in October.

G. C. Gibson, assistant dairy husbandryman, commented on the advantages to be derived from the shows staged in all parts of the state in which the same standards were used on every occasion. He declared there was only one way for a producer to determine the profit in his herd and that was to give them through tests and keep accurate records. He advised every owner to keep the records in order to determine which of his animals was profitable

Among the exhibitors in Tuesday's show and the number of animals entered were: W. H. Keener, Ennis, Route 3, one; John S. Finch, Corsicana, two; A. L. Wilson, Kernes, Route 2, one; W. W. Ray, one Hooper Sanders, Hillsboro, one; J. D. Sanders, Hillsboro, one; W. G. Middleton, Hillsboro, ten; J. H. Hitchcock, Ennis Route 3, four; J. O. Mine Blast Kills Six, Burns Six; Two Are Missing

SCRANTON, Pa., June 2.—(AP)—Six men were known to be dead, six others were seriously burned and two were missing today as the result of an explosion today in the Butler mine of the Volpe Coal company in this Eastern Pennsylvania anthricite field.

Possibility of a higher death toll was indicated by rescuers who said they were searching for those who might be alive rather than bodies.

The injured men said the blast was preceded by a rock fall which shut off the ventilation.

HUNDREDS DEAD AS RESULT BOMBING OF GRANOLLERS TODAY

BRITISH FREIGHTER WAS SUNK IN RAID ON VALENCIA HARBOR

BARCELONA, May 31.—(AP)—At least 430 persons were killed today in an insurgent air raid on the town of Granollers, 16 miles north of Barcelona. That many bodies were taken from the ruins and authorities believed 100 more were buried.

Forty bombs were dropped by five tri-motored bombers, 12 of them plunging into the market square at its most crowded hour.

Early reports indicated most of the victims were women and children.

The entire Red Cross service of the district has been mobilized.

The raiders arrived at 9 a. m., and took only a few minutes to dump their cargo of bombs. Many women were doing their marketing.

At one spot 55 persons were killed. At another 50 died. Approximately 25 buildings were destroyed completely.

Ganollers, center of a rich potato growing district, had a normal population of 10,000 but this had been swollen by refugees from the war areas of government Spain.

The nearest hospital soon was overflowing, and as wounded were brought in they were sent on to Barcelona or nearby villages.

The defense ministry said the planes, described as Junkers (German made), apparently had tried to reach Barcelona but were forced off by this city's defenses against aircraft.

Barcelona had three air raid alarms but was not bombed, although planes flew over the city in the afternoon.

MADRID, Spain, May 31.—(AP)—The British freighter Penthames was bombed and sunk in an air raid on Valencia harbor this morning. No lives were lost.

A Spanish vessel also was sunk. Air raid alarms kept the harbor district in a state of tension all night.

The Penthames was the third British ship sunk recently at Valencia, Spanish government port on the Mediterranean. Others were the Thorpe-Hall on May 24 and the Greatend on May 28.

A French soldier was killed yesterday and several British seamen wounded in Valencia harbor raids.

(Barcelona dispatches said more than 200 persons, mostly women and children, were killed or wounded when five tri-motored bombing planes dropped 40 bombs on Granollers, 16 miles north of Barcelona. (Twelve bombs fell in the crowded market square. The entire Red Cross service of the district was mobilized.

(Barcelona itself suffered its third raid in 12 hours at 1:40 p. m., (6:40 a. m., C. S. T.) Five high-flying planes drew heavy anti-aircraft fire.)

ELEVENTH FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT BUSINESS SLOWER

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES LOWER AND BUSINESS FAILURES INCREASE

DALLAS, May 30.—(AP)—Business at wholesale and retail in the eleventh district was lower in April than in the same month of 1937, says the monthly business review of the federal reserve Bank of Dallas, released today. This situation was found after allowance for seasonal influences.

Preliminary reports indicate department store sales in the first two weeks in May were about eight per cent under those in that period last year, the review says. The number of commercial failures in this district increased from March to April, but the total indebtedness was smaller. The review quoted Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., there were 28 insolvencies in the month with liabilities of $254,000, compared with 19 in March owing $313,000, and 16 in April of last year with indebtedness of $344,000.

Production of petroleum in the eleventh district continued to expand in April with daily average production of 1,521,815 barrels, or two per cent higher than in March and two per cent under the average for April a year ago. The review points to the Texas railroad commission's Saturday shutdown order, effective the second week of May, as responsible for production of 1,404,000 barrels in the week ending May 14. This, it says, was the lowest weekly figure recorded since the last week in January when the Sunday shutdown in Texas was put into effect.

Weather Unfavorable.

Weather in April and the first half of May was unfavorable for agriculture in many sections of the eleventh district. Regardless, the review says, fair to good yields are still in prospect for grain crops in Texas. The May 1 estimate of wheat production in Texas was placed by the department of agriculture at 39,860,000 bushels, which is the same as the April 1 estimate and 1,830,000 bushels lower than the 1937 harvest. The 10-year average (1927-1936) production for the state amounted to 29,984,000 bushels.

The department estimates the acreage abandoned was 25 per cent of the total area seeded in the fall of 1937. The heaviest abandonment occurred in the high plains section of the Texas Panhandle where moisture deficiency, high wind, dust storms and green bug infestation caused extensive damage. The indicated per acre yield on the 3,986,000 acres remaining for harvest on May 1 was 10 bushels, which compares with a harvest of 10.6 bushels an acre last year and an average per acre yield of 10.1 bushels.

The review says livestock ranges in Texas showed further improvement the past month and, due to the favorable moisture conditions prevailing in most sections of the state, good to excellent summer grazing is in prospect.

Cattle and sheep in Texas have made good gains with some stock now in marketable flesh. The department of agriculture reports the movement of cattle to northern feed lots will be relatively light this year, but shipments direct to market are expected to be considerably smaller than the record volume a year ago. Sales of wool have been fairly active at prices considerably under those prevailing in the spring of 1937.

KLEBERG NAMED AS HEAD DELEGATION TEXAS COTTON MEN

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Representative Kleberg (D-Tex) was named today to head a delegation of Texans at a conference with Secretary Wallace later in the day on their quest for a proposed federal cotton research laboratory.

The interview was to climax three days of conferences held by 45 representatives of various Texas state and municipal bodies, colleges, and farm organizations.

A member of the house agricultural committee, and for years a principal congressional exponent of the laboratory, Kleberg will outline briefly to Wallace the main reasons why the Texans feel their state should be chosen as site for one of four laboratories provided in the 1938 farm act.

The visitors divided into separate groups to discuss other problems with governmental departments.

One group resumed a conference begun yesterday with postoffice officials over a proposed airmal route between San Antonio by way of San Angelo and Lubbock. Another discussed cotton ginning and insect control problems with agricultural departmet experts. and a third urged reclamation and soil conservation service engineers join army engineers in surveying the upper Colorado river in West Texas.

Sulveson Deal, manager of the San Angelo board of city development and Representative South (D-Texas) took up the Colorado river project with Reclamation Commissioner John C. Page.

They asked reclamation engineers learn feasibility of irrigation system construction in connection with a flood control program. They also asked that soil conservation studies on the upper tributaries of athe river be made now in order that all work on the steam be unified.

J. H. Greene of Big Spring, C. E. Maedgen of Lubbock, Tom Cotton of Amarillo, and Fred Harmon of San Antonio, discussed the proposed North-South West Texas route with S. A. Cisler, superintendent of the rail and airmail service.

The delegation pledged support to Secretary Hull's trade agreement program when they went to the state department, where Hull spoke to them for 20 minutes.

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, president of the Texas Cotton association, expressed appreciation, on behalf of his organization, of Hull's reciprocity agreements.

SENATOR WHEELER WANTS ACCOUNTING STABILIZATION FUND

MONTANAN DEMANDS THAT TREASURY GIVE CONGRESS INFORMATION IN DEBATE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) demanded today that the treasury give congress an accounting of its use of the $2,000,000,000 stabilizing fund designed to help mantain international monetary equilibrium.

Taking the floor during debate on the $3,000,000,000 relief bill, Wheeler told the senate that the fund either "wasn't correct in theory, or hasn't been operated the way congress intended it should."

"It seems to me to be time that the congress of the United States knew something as to what is being done with that $2,000,000,000," he declared.

His remarks were prompted by an assertion by Senator Lagan (D-Ky) that "we will never get the country out of its difficulties by appropriating money to spend for relief unless something else is done."

He advocated federal reserve board action to lift prices to the 1926 level with monetary and credit levers.

Wheeler, agreeing with Logan, said the treasury's $2,000,000,000 "paper profit" from devaluation of the dollar was intended to be used to support of other currencies and prevent their depreciation.

"That hasn't been done," he declared, adding that currencies of most other countries except England had been depreciated since the fund was created.

The result, he told the senate, was that producers abroad were able to sell advantageously in the American market despite tariff barriers.

Borah In Criticism.

Meanwhile Senator Borah (R-Ida.) pointed up to the critical wage-hour issue by casting aside precedent to criticize both house and senate bills so vigorously that attempts to reach a compromise may be retarded.

Borah, member of a joint committee seeking an agreement on the legislation, declared the senate bill would give "Hitler-like" powers to a five-member board which could excuse some firms from compliance with pay and hour regulations.

He made it plain he would not support that provision, despite custom which holds that conferees must back the measure approved by their chamber.

Nor will he agree, Borah said, to accept a bill without wage differentials. The house measure carries no such differentials.

The Idaho senator expressed his views shortly before congressional leaders went to the white house for their weekly conference with President Roosevelt on the legislative program.

Their only question of pre-adjournment procedure was whether they should try to revive any part of the president's government reorganization program. If that is not done, they hope to end the session by June 11.

Borah, however, said he did not believe a wage-hour agreement could be reached by that date.

His appeal against to speedy consideration of the legislation followed an expression of caution by Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate conferees against accepting "any old bill." He added, however, that he thought a satisfactory measure could be worked out quickly.

Thomas Takes Opposite View

Taking an opposite view from Borah, Thomas bid for unified labor support of the "jurisdictional" board empowered by the senate bill to grant exception sand exemptions to pay and hour regulations.

Commenting that labor, "often betrayed at and after the polls, is wondering and uncertain," he said he believed it could trust the administration and congress to set up a fair board.

Borah said he thought the issue had resolved itself into two questions.

"We have," he said, "wage differentials on one hand and the creation of a board on the other hand. If the board is created as the senate passed the bill, its name would be Hitler and not a board.

"I look upon a wage-hour bill myself as almost entirely a humanitarian problem. It will add very little to purchasing power and very little to employment.

Would Grant Exceptions

Thomas said he favored fixing minimum wages at 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week at 40-hours, with the board empowered to grant exceptions, as the senate bill provides.

The controversy over wage-hour legislation far overshadowed senate consideration of the only other remaining major issue—relief.

Administration supporters were beset by various proposals to "earmark" much of the $3,000,000,000 authorized by the relief and public works bill, but they laid the basis for a counter-attack.

Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash) said he would seek to eliminate from the bill restrictions on WPA expenditures so that relief funds could be poured out immediately in industrial centers where aid demands are increasing.

Senator Adams (D-Colo), floor manager for the bill, said he expected it to be passed by the senate Thursday.

Unlimited Credit Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—A bill to give the government virtually unlimited credit at 1 per cent interest in time of war has won the approval of the senate military affairs committee.

The measure, by Senator Lee (D-Okla.), privides that when men are drafted, the government may require persons having $1,000 or more to buy 50-year bonds under a schedule ranging from 5 per cent of net wealth to 75 per cent of fortunes above $100,000,000.

The committee recommended the bill yesterday.

Objections from the war, navy and treasury departments are expected to prevent action at this session.

Conferees Deadlocked.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Senate and house conferees became deadlocked today over a proposal to permit foreign purchase and construction of government-subsidized ships. They are seeking to adjust differences between separate ship subsidy bills approved by the two chambers.

The senate bill provides for foreign construction whenever domestic bids are double, or more than double, those of foreign

PRESIDENT ENTERS EARMARKING FIGHT FOR RELIEF FUNDS

ROOSEVELT DECLARES UNEMPLOYMENT HAS GROWN WORSE IN RECENT WEEKS

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt intervened today in the fight over earmarking proposed new federal public works funds with a warning that unemployment has grown more acute in recent weeks and that a flexible relief program is essential to check it.

The chief executive expressed his views in a letter to Senator Adams (D-Colo.), floor manager for the administration's $3,247,000,000 spending-lending bill now being debated.

His action was quickly interpreted by administration senators as greatly strengthening their stand against demands of Republicans and conservative Democrats that the funds be earmarked by assigning them for use on specified projects.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote Adams that unemployment has "grown worse" since he sent his relief message to congress six weeks ago.

"Emergency employment, therefore, should come right away instead of being deferred," the president said, adding:

"It is the gap existing now that we want to fill. Therefore, I greatly hope that the emergency appropriation bill in its final form will put no restrictions on the immediate starting of works projects, and that it will make possible the selection of those projects which can be got under way most speedily."

Senator Tydings Pessimistic.

Senator Tydings (D-Md.) predicted that unless recent trends of business and government were altered the inevitable result would be "to subject the people of this nation to a darker and even graver depression than any which we have yet passed through since 1929."

Tydings told the senate he had "fought consistently" for the "pay as we go" plan of Senator LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.)

"Sooner or later, we must face one of three roads—crushing taxation, inflation or repudiation," he said.

Quoting from commerce department data, Tydings said business had "paid out" a total of more than $23,000,000,000 in excess of income during the seven years, 1929 through 1935. At the same time the government contributed $16,500,000,000 more than revenue, he said.

Meanwhile "little business" gained assurance in the other big issue before congress—wages and hours—that senate conferees would fight for elastic standards in order to protect its interests.

Small Business Threatened.

Senators Thomas (D-Utah), Walsh (D-Mass) and Pepper, (D-Fla.) said many small merchants and matufacturers had declared they could not continue to operate if they had to provide the same minimum wages and maximum hours as larger firms.

The three senators are among members of a joint committee which will begin tomorrow to draft compromise wage-hour legislation.

The major issue is whether nationally uniform standards shall be ordered.

Walsh, pointing out that 68 per cent of the nation's business firms employ less than 20 persons, said any compromise bill should consider the ability of an employer to adjust himself to its provisions over a period of months or years.

Thomas, chairman of the senate labor committee, urged that a board be created to make exceptions where rigid standards would bring unemployment.

Noting that the senate-house committee has wide powers to rewrite the legislation, Senator Pepper said he thought it should be broadened "to provide some stimulation for small businesses in remote sections of the country."

Early Adjournment Asured.

Although some committeemen forecast a long struggle over the measure, administraiton leaders said that yesterday's decision to abandon the government reorganization bill until next year virtually assured adjournment by June 10.

Senate chieftains hope to pass by tomorrow night the $3,27,000,000 relief and public works bill—the only major legislation besides the wage-hour bill still on the calendar. The senate was called into session at 11 a. m. (Eastern Standard time.) an hour earlier than usual, to hasten a vote.

The senators voted yesterday to make $50,000,000 of WPA funds available for doles should an emergency arise. It turned down a suggestion by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) that $150,000,000 be set aside from work-relief funds for direct relief payments.

One of the biggest fights remaining centered on a committee amendment to restrict use of PWA funds for constructing utility systems which would compete with privately-owned plants. Senator Morris (Ind-Neb), so-called "father" of the TVA, was leading an attempt to eliminate the restrictions.

Reorganization Bill Will Be Big Issue

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Government reorganization became an issue today for the next congress—and possibly for the November elections.

Congressional leaders, with the approval of President Roosevelt, formally abandoned for this session the legislation which had aroused nation-wide controversy and resulted in a major defeat for the administration.

A statement issued late yesterday by Senator Byrnes D-SC) and Representative Warren (D-NC), chairmen of the senate and house reorganization committees, said some form of reorganization bill would be placed before the new 1939 congress.

"It is our opinion that the American people overwhelmingly desire some kind of effective reorganization of our government in the interest of greater efficiency and practical economy," their statement added.

Some legislators declared, however, that the people clearly did not want reorganization legislation in the form recently considered by congress and that the voters might show their opposition at the polls.

May Retard Naval Construction.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Sentiment developed in the house appropriations committee today against providing funds this year to start construction of a new naval aircraft carrier and a $3,000,000 dirigible.

The committee's attitude also impelled some house members to predict that nothing further would be done at this session about the navy's program of shore construction, including major air bases in Alaska and on Midway island in the Pacific.

Wants Anti-Aircraft Equipment.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to give the army a $6,000,000 supplemental appropriation for "critical items of anti-aircraft equipment."

President Signs Amendments.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed amendments to the new crop control law today, increasing this year's national tobacco marketing quotas 2 per cent and providing for redistribution of unusued cotton acreage allotments.

Officials said the cotton amendment would permit transfer by cotton growers to other growers of unused portions of their acreage allotments. They explained that in Oklahoma and Texas many farmers had overplanted wheat acreage allotments and consequently could not take full advantage of cotton allotments and still remain eligible for benefit payments.

"Sympathetic" Treatment.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Rosewell Magill, undersecretary o fthe treasury, promised the states today they would get "sympathetic" treatment in the question of whether to collect back taxes from state and local officials heretofore thought exempt from federal income taxes.

Magill avoided, however, any specific commitment on proposed legislation to prevent retroactive taxation.

A large delegation of state offiicals told him that since last week's supreme court decision approving federal taxation of New York port authority employes, governmental employes all over the United States were fearful they might be subject to taxes for all the years since 1926.

Coast Defense Fund.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Members of the senate-house conference committee at work on the military appropriations bill reported today they had agreed on the expenditure of $6,748,558 for sea coast defenses.

They eliminated a senate amendment which would have boosted the sea coast allotment by $1f,790,747.

The compromise bill would appropriate approximately $469,000,000 as compared to $491,225,313 voted by the senate and $448,116,294 in the house-approved measure.

Appropriations for the current year totaled $415,263,154.

Conferees on the non-military war department appropriations bill agreed on a compromise total of $196,962,867, compared to $225,221,867 voted by the senate and $196,609725 approved by the house.

A major reduction was a slash of $10,000,000 in the $25,000,000 added by the senate for rivers and harbors projects.

American Activities Be Probed.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, disclosed today that President Roosevelt has asked an interdepartmental committee to report on the use of American fliers and flying equipment in belligerent countries.

Johnson, who heads the committee, told reporters after he had called at the White House that the survey would include the nature and extent of American participation in aeronautics in all countries "with military complications."

Camapign Expenditures Committee

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Vice President Garner appointed a special committee of five senators today to make an investigation of campaign expenditures by all senatorial candidates this year, announced as routine.

He named Sheppard (D-Texas), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Brown, (D-Mich.), Norris (Ind.-Neb.), and Austin (R-Vt.)

New Rivers-Harbors Fund.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Members of a joint conference committee reported agreement today on spending an additional $15,000,000 for construction and maintenance of rivers and harbors projects throughout the country.

Senator Copeland (D-NY) said the sum represented a reduction of $10,000,000 in the $25,000,000 the senate added to the $94,020,000 the house voted for such works.

Approximately $112,000,000 will now be available for expenditure on rivers and harbors during the next fiscal year.

Copeland said projects for which the senate had earmarked the $25,000,000 would share proportionately the $10,000,000 cut. Here is how army engineers proposed originally to allocate part of the money:

Louisiana — Texas intracoastal waterway, Sabine river to Corpus Christi section, $500,000; Houston ship channel, $500,000; Brazos Island Harbor, Texas, $300,000.

UNITED STATES IS GREATLY CONCERNED CHINESE SITUATION

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—The United States demanded today that Japan "take immediate steps" to restore American properties in China to "their rightful owners."

In a strong note presented by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew to Japanese Foreign Minister Ugaki the Japanese were told that their "infringement of an interference with American rights in China" was "giving the government of the United States increasing concern."

It was pointed out that while Japanese civilians have been permitted to ented and do business in areas from which the Sino-Jap conflict has moved on American burinessmen and missionaries have been denied permission not only to resume their former residences but even to visit their holdings.

State department officials estimated thet over 300 Americans have been waiting in Shanghai for many months to get permission to return to their properties in the Yang'ze valley, including Nanking.

The note said that "the problem of enabling American citizens in China to re-enter and repossess their properties from which they have been excluded by the Japanese military and of which the Japanese military have been and in some cases still are in occupation is giving the government of the United States increasing concern."

"It is difficult," Japan was told, "to perceive any warrant for the continued placing by the Japanese authorities of obstacles in the way of return by Americans who have legitimate reason for proceeding to the areas in question."

The United States specifically demanded the return of the University of Shanghai to the Northern and Southern Baptist Missionary Societies. The University has been occupied by Japanese military and naval units, the note said since shortly after the outbreak of hostilities at Shanghai, August 1937.
